AUDITING COURSES

Deans' Council, Faculty Senate

Students who audit must be officially admitted to the University. With the consent of the Dean of Graduate Studies and Research and the instructor, a student may be admitted to any course as an auditor if space is available. An auditor is registered and required to attend at least half of the sessions, but is not required to participate in any of the work of the course. No credit toward a degree is issued for an audited course.

A student enrolled as an auditor may be dropped from the course when, in the judgment of the instructor and the Dean of Graduate Studies and Research, such action is justified. A student shall pay the regular graduate course fee for the privilege of auditing. Audit privilege may not be changed to credit status. Audit privileges are ordinarily limited to one course per semester.

A student who has audited a course may, with the adviser's and the appropriate graduate program coordinator's permission, repeat that course for credit. The student must register again for the course and remit the appropriate fees.
