The Institute involves two weeks of intensive seminars, lectures, readings, films, and cultural activities related to Japanese history, culture, literature, government, business, language and education. Participants must be full-time faculty or administrators.

Fellowships cover the following costs for participants: two weeks of campus housing, up to $700 for transportation, and a $500 stipend for meals and other expenses. Registration Fee: $695  Click HERE for more information.

The Institute involves three weeks of intensive seminars, lectures, readings, and cultural activities related to Chinese history, culture, literature, government, business, language and education. Institute faculty will include scholars, administrators, representatives from the local Chinese community, and government officials. Participants must be full-time faculty.

Fellowships pay for the following costs for participants: three weeks in China including room/board, in-country domestic and ground transportation, and other organized activity expenses. Registration Fee: $750  Click HERE for more information.

Program Deadline is December 31, 2018  Global Education Millersville University