I did a lot during my undergrad! Where do I start... When I graduate this Spring, I will have a BSE in Computer Science with a minor in Women's Studies. I will also be graduating Cum Laude! In addition to being a part of the Honors College and HCSA, I have been involved in the Student Alumni Association (2 years), Relay for Life (3 years), Flute Ensemble (2 years), Concert Band (2 years), and I've participated in JAM Crew. I was the Secretary for the Student Alumni Association for 1 year, during which I created their new logo. I am currently serving my second year as the Secretary for Relay for Life, and we just completed our event for the year: Relay in the USA! I've found that it's super important to stay involved around campus, but also to find a balance between extra-curriculars, school, and a social life. While being a part of these amazing organizations, I have also held jobs on campus and participated in research opportunities with professors. During my Sophomore year, I published a paper with Dr. Nazli Hardy at the World Computer Science Conference in Las Vegas titled: "Reframing the Gender Gap in Computer Science as a Solvable Problem." Not only was this research experience invaluable to my college career, but I was able to represent the paper in 2 academic conferences at IUP and Millersville University the following semester. I was also a Peer Mentor for all of the Computer Science freshman last year, which entails helping them with registration, navigating University websites, and being there as a liaison between professor and student if needed. I've also worked for Barb in the Honors College (she's awesome). I completed 2 internships while at Millersville University. My first summer internship was as a Software Engineer Intern for the WebstaurantStore in Lititz. My second internship began last May with Seisan Consulting in Lancaster where I build mobile apps, websites, and integrate geolocational services for clients. I continued this internship through to this Spring where I'm completing it for course credit in place of an elective. When I graduate, I plans to move to East Petersburg and continue with this company. Being in the Honors College has definitely benefitted myself as a student. Through various community service events, research opportunities, and completing the Honors Thesis, I've found myself to be very close to my professors. I feel as though I am leaving this University with a lot more than just a degree. I also feel as though all of my collegiate experiences really helped to shape how proud I feel of my degree. I am almost always wearing something with Millersville University's logo or name simply because I am so proud to be a Marauder, and I've never once reconsidered my choice.

Sincerely,
Emmali Montgomery
Secretary of Relay for Life

At Millersville, I majored in Biology and minored in Chemistry. I have had the opportunity to get involved with numerous research projects within the field of Biology and am currently completing my University Honor's Thesis studying the internal parasites of captive and wild white-tailed deer. Outside of academics, I have been an active member of the John Newman Association since my freshman year and have served through numerous leadership roles within the organization. I have had the opportunity to go on multiple mission trips and retreats and currently lead a weekly Bible study. Through the JNA, I have deepened my faith tremendously and have helped others to do the same. I have worked within the Biology Department as a laboratory assistant and have enjoyed learning from Millersville's amazing faculty. I have worked with the Integrated Studies program for two years now, getting to serve my peers as an Educational Support Coach. I also have another job as a veterinary technician at a local veterinary hospital. After graduation, I will be attending graduate school to become a large and small animal veterinarian. I have been accepted to a few vet schools, and I will most likely be furthering my education at the University Of Pennsylvania College Of Veterinary Medicine in the fall of 2018.

I played the spring season of my sophomore year and the fall semester of my junior year. I worked on my economics thesis project during my senior year. I stayed at Reighard Hall for most of my time at MU and I commuted for my final year at MU. I participated in honors college events like the Day of Caring and the spring formal. That is most of the stuff that I have done while at MU.
