Shenks and Reighard to Join “Official” Campus Residence Halls

While work will begin next spring on brand new residence halls for the Millersville University campus, two existing suite-style residence halls will come online for students July 1, 2013. The University will take over management of Shenks Hall and Reighard Hall, currently run by Student Lodging, Inc., (SLI). SLI will continue to own the buildings and the University will lease them.

Shenks and Reighard both have suite-style living, and provide several more options for our students. The moves mean that Shenks and Reighard will become part of the residence hall offerings. There will be different costs for the various residence halls.

With the goal of being seamless and customer service oriented, the process of securing a room in either Shenks or Reighard Residence Halls will be consistent with the other residence halls’ procedures.
