Worker's Compensation Procedures

If you are injured at work, to be eligible for worker's compensation benefits, you must:

1. Notify your supervisor as soon as possible
2. If a physician's care is necessary, go to Witmer Infirmary or see one of the other University's designated physicians listed inside, for the initial treatment and for the next 90 days following the day of the initial treatment.
3. After this 90 day period you may continue to see a University designated physician or a physician of your choice.
4. In the event of a life threatening emergency, proceed directly to a hospital emergency room
