1990 Student Right-To-Know and Campus Security Act

With amendments through 1992

Codified at 20 U.S.C.A. sec.1092(f)(7)

Title II of Public Law 101-542 The Student Right-To-Know and Campus Security Act of 1990, also known as the "Clery Bill" in memory of Jeanne Clery, enacted by Congress and signed into law on November 8, 1990 amended section 485 of the Higher Education Act of 1965 by adding campus crime statistic and security reporting provisions for colleges and universities. The security provisions were amended in 1992 by The Campus Sexual Assault Victims' Bill of Rights to require that schools develop policies to deal with sexual assault on campus and provide certain assurances to victims.

These provisions apply to all institutions of higher education, both public and private, nationwide which participate in any of the funding programs authorized by the Higher Education Act. The United States Department of Education is charged with enforcing the provisions of this statute.
