Course Plan

Conceptual Framework: The cumulative knowledge content of the Pre-Practicum experiences and Practicum in School Psychology (Psychology 685) are in accordance with two important documents; the NASP Standards for School Psychology Training Programs (2000) and the School Psychology; A Blueprint Training and Practice III (2006).

I. Course Description

A planned sequence of supervised experiences in varied Field settings which work with children of pre-school and school age. Course activities begin when the student enters the program and continues throughout all phases of the program. Students are encouraged to develop a perspective on school psychology as an activity requiring reflective decision-making which takes place within a societal context, services a diversity of publics, compliments the services of other individuals and agencies, and assists in the process of integrating/coordinating resources on behalf of children and their families from within the school context.

Students enroll in Psychology 685 after successful completion of Segments I and II and close to, or the semester prior to, enrolling in Psychology 686 (Internship in School Psychology). All practicum requirements and a passing grade must be met before the student can enroll in Psychology 686.

The Practicum placement is designed to familiarize the student with the education system through 120 hours of supervised experience in appropriate school settings and/or non-school settings that serve children. This is the equivalent of one day per week during the semester spent in case activities. Through these experiences the student will demonstrate the integration of skills acquired during their program by managing a case through the initial (or re-evaluation) referral process to it’s conclusion under the supervision of both their University and Field Supervisors.

Students will meet as a class with their University Supervisor every two weeks as scheduled. The purpose of these seminars is to review the referral process, standards and regulations, and case management procedures. Seminar discussions concern ongoing field experiences and provide group supervision. The course instructor or the student may request individual supervision with the course instructor as warranted. Students may be asked to submit audio or video tapes or certain activities or to present specific information about cases. All discussions will be confidential and NASP/APA ethics will adhere to at all times.

II. Course Objectives/Competencies

A. Develop an awareness of and an appreciation for the cultural diversity of the public school population.
B. Develop an understanding of responsiveness to the special needs of exceptional persons.
C. Develop knowledge of the available school and community resources for those school aged persons who have needs.
D. Develop knowledge of the roles, responsibilities and functions of various pupil personnel.
E. Develop knowledge and appreciation for the roles and the functions of school psychologist.
F. To begin performing some of the functions of school psychologist through management of a referral from it’s beginning to it’s conclusion with supervision by a qualified school psychologist.
G. To Integrate skills acquire through course work and training.

IV. Course Requirements and Assignments:

The student must:

1. Practicum Agreement. Present a completed and signed School Practicum Agreement by the second week of the course in order to remain enroll in the course.

2. Professional Liability. Students must purchase and present verification of coverage of liability insurance for the internship period.

3. Complete 120 hours of field experience becoming familiar with the school system and performing the roles and functions of school Psychologists under the supervision of a certified school psychologist. Students must complete one full day in the school district and follow the calendar of the School District.

4. Attend University Group Supervision. Students are required to attend group meetings with the university supervisor and bring discussion material appropriate for group discussion. Examples include: case reviews, supervision issues, ethical concerns and others. (See Group Supervision Evaluation Form

5. Submit two evaluations completed by their Field Supervisor.

6. Case Study. Students must present a completed evaluation of a child referred for learning or behavior problems and complete the Practicum Activities Checklist associated. This evaluation is presented in two sections: Part a) assessment report; Part b) strategies, interventions, and modifications as determined by your evaluation. See attachment: Case Study Evaluation Criteria for additional information. Students must submit report that follows Practicum guidelines, not the guidelines of the school district.

7. Practicum Resource Log /binder. Students must maintain a Practicum Resource Log /binder of practicum activities where you: (See Resource binder evaluation form).

   a. Complete a weekly Quantitative Log where you record your practicum activities and time spent in each activity
   b. Keep your Practicum log current and available for critical review as requested
   c. Include your Student Internship Plan, Pre-Internship self evaluation, Case study.
   d. Develop a Student Internship Plan
   e. Complete a Self Evaluation form
   f. Complete an evaluation of your Field Supervisor

8. Complete “Getting to know your District” information form. Facilitate discussion for one of these Topics.

9. Internship Plan. Students must develop a detailed internship plan. Using the student “self evaluation” students are to identify competencies which they feel are in need further development. This may also be an area that you like and would like to strengthen. The internship plan must include: 1) a clear definition of the competency, 2) detailed steps that you will like to take to strengthen this competency, 3) a specific goal that you will like to achieve 4) a timeframe for achieving this goal, and 5) information regarding how you will determine that you have attained this goal.

10. Spend one full day with a school psychologist within a setting which is multicultural in character to observe his/her daily activities. Hold an in-depth discussion of how the nature of the psychologist’s work environment affects his/her role in terms of assessment, consultation, and intervention.

11. By prior appointment, visit two of the following kinds of classes to observe the type of children it serves, the class size, the nature of the curriculum, special materials or equipment used, methods of instruction used by the teacher, and the like.

Types of Classes (choose two)

- Academic Support
- Learning Support
- Emotional Support
- Deaf/Hearing Impaired Support
