Dorchester County Public Schools
Dorchester County Public Schools, located in Dorchester County, Maryland, with a population of 29,300, is the Eastern Shore’s largest county with 593 square miles of land and 108 square miles of water. While the county is home to more than 750 businesses, it is also rich in recreational facilities and natural resources. The Dorchester County Public School system provides the educational foundation for the county’s children.

Highlights of the DCPS system: There are 12 schools: two high schools, a career and technology center, two middle schools, six elementary schools and a kindergarten through 8th grade school. There are approximately 5000 students in the district. Our elementary schools are currently using the Houghton Mifflin Reading Program and MacMillan/McGraw-Hill Math Connects. High schools offer a full College preparatory curriculum as well as options in occupational skills. The Dorchester Career and Technology Center receives students from both high schools and offers programs in Food Service, Masonry, Carpentry, Electrical Operations, HVAC, Automotive Body, Welding, Horticulture and Medical Services. IBM-compatible computers are used throughout the system in individual classrooms as well as strategically placed computer labs. There are courses in Technology Simulations, Keyboarding, Computer Applications, and Computerized Accounting. Every classroom has access to the Microsoft Office Products as well as to the Internet. The Dual Enrollment Program with Chesapeake College offers the opportunity for the students who wish to get started on their college credits. Family Support Services Resource Center for Families and Schools is designed to support children with disabilities from birth to 21. The center provides the skills and knowledge to enable families and children to understand the Special Education process.

HealthCorps, Inc.
HealthCorps® is a 501(c)3 founded in 2003 by heart surgeon and Daytime Emmy Award-winning host Dr. Mehmet Oz and his wife Lisa to combat the childhood obesity crisis. HealthCorps® is building a nationwide movement to shape a new generation. HealthCorps® Coordinators carry out unique in-school and community programming targeting high-need populations. Using peer-mentoring to deliver a progressive curriculum in nutrition, fitness and mental strength, HealthCorps® Coordinators give teens purpose, help develop human character, and inspire an interest in health and culinary arts careers. HealthCorps® also serves as a unique research laboratory exploring the complex, underlying causes of the obesity crisis and discovering and communicating solutions. HealthCorps® is bringing many initiatives together to address the Whole Child and activate the students’ mind, body and spirit. As a result, HealthCorps® is transforming the educational paradigm one school at a time. The program network spans 62 schools in 13 states and the District of Columbia.
Type of School District: Public
Demographic Area: Urban
Full Time Positions: Coordinators are the heart of HealthCorps. Through the HealthCorps program, the Coordinator becomes a full-time health advocate for their school sites and its surrounding community. Each Coordinator works with an individual school to develop a tailored edition of HealthCorps, ensuring that the needs of the school community are met. Coordinators teach daily classroom lessons based on the HealthCorps Curriculum, organize and facilitate after school programming, provide staff and parent outreach and hold school-wide and community-wide events.
About the Position: HealthCorps Coordinators commit to two years of service to work full-time in a designated high school and community. HealthCorps provides a salary-based position, health insurance and other fringe benefits. HealthCorps also provides continuing professional development and additional activism opportunities to help Coordinators best serve their school communities and to enhance their own experience and abilities.

Hempfield School District
Hempfield School District is a suburban/rural community located approximately 30 miles south of Harrisburg and 5 miles west of Lancaster, Pennsylvania in the heart of what is commonly known as Pennsylvania Dutch country. The district extends over 44 square miles in the western portion of Lancaster County, and consists of two townships (East and West Hempfield) and two boroughs (East Petersburgh and Mountville). Hempfield is a very desirable place to live and raise a family; business and industry continue to thrive and from a geographic perspective, the district is close to major metropolitan areas such as Washington DC, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York City.
The Hempfield community has a population of over 45,000 residents, with a minority population close to 20%; approximately 25% of our student population is classified as economically disadvantaged. The community is comprised of families that come from a rich blend of agricultural, blue collar, and professional backgrounds. The Pennsylvania Dutch heritage is alive and well in the Hempfield area and beautiful farm properties still dot the landscape of our community. Hempfield School District serves approximately 7,000 students who attend one of seven elementary schools, two middle schools, and one high school. Hempfield students generally score significantly above the mean on state and national assessments. We annually graduate more than 90% of our students, and approximately 64% of our graduates go on to continue their education beyond high school. The district and community are very proud of the rigorous, robust curriculum offerings and high quality of instruction to which students have access, and the arts, athletic, and other extracurricular opportunities available are second to none in the region. Local pride in the school system is a significant strength, and our schools are the beneficiaries of great support provided by parents and the Hempfield community.

Norristown Area School District
The Mission of the Norristown Area School District is to provide comprehensive educational programs to prepare all students to become productive, responsible, creative citizens. Norristown Area School District provides a well-developed, full day educational program for almost 7,000 students in grades Pre-Kindergarten through 12, including the necessary support services.
Our Core Values affect our students, families, staff, and the greater Norristown Area. The following principles provide the foundation that guides our actions: Student achievement is our number one priority; parent and family engagement is critical to the success of students; our schools are part of a larger community; diversity is a valued strength to be affirmed and celebrated; our actions will be characterized by trust, respect, fairness, truth, and transparency; we are committed to safe and supportive environments that are physically, intellectually, and emotionally conducive to teaching and learning; our staff is a valued asset and critical to student learning; and we are committed to maintaining financial stability and accountability.
A great emphasis is placed upon Promoting All to Higher Standards (PATHS) of Excellence to ensure that students are post-secondary ready and prepared for the 21st Century.
PATHS is the overarching framework for indicating every student's progress, grade Pre-kindergarten through 12, toward the goal of being post-secondary or college ready. PATHS is a district-wide commitment to all students, families and the community. It is an investment in our students that will ultimately result in the sustainability and growth of the Norristown community.

Peace Corps
The Peace Corps traces its roots and mission to 1960, when then Senator John F. Kennedy challenged students at the University of Michigan to serve their country in the cause of peace by living and working in developing countries. From that inspiration grew an agency of the federal government devoted to world peace and friendship. Since that time, 210,000+ Peace Corps Volunteers have served in 139 host countries to work on issues ranging from AIDS education to information technology and environmental preservation. Today's Peace Corps is more vital than ever, working in emerging and essential areas such as information technology and business development, and contributing to the President's Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief. Peace Corps Volunteers continue to help countless individuals who want to build a better life for themselves, their children, and their communities.

Type of School District: Public
Demographic Area: Urban

Full Time Positions: The type of work a Volunteer does is ultimately determined by the needs of a host country and the potential of a Volunteer to contribute to those needs and to the Peace Corps' mission. There are a wide variety of Volunteer positions to fill throughout the world; however, nearly all Volunteers fall under one of the following general categories: Education, Health, Business, Agriculture, Environment, and Community Services

Penn Manor School District

With a student population of approximately 5200, Penn Manor School District is recognized as one of the largest school districts in Lancaster County. The district spans over 100 rural square miles to the east of the Susquehanna River. Penn Manor School District encompasses five political entities: Millersville Borough, and Conestoga, Martic, Manor, and Pequea Townships with a community population of approximately 32,000. Penn Manor School District occupies seven elementary buildings, two middle schools, and one high school. Nestled in Millersville Borough, Penn Manor High School is located beside the campus of Millersville University. The corporate headquarters of both Armstrong World Industries and Turkey Hill Dairy are located within Penn Manor School District's boundaries. Penn Manor School District is a three-layer district with instruction organized into an elementary division, middle level division, and high school division. Curricular design has been aligned with a K-3, 4-6, 7-8, and 9-12 configurations. All seven elementary schools house Grades K-6. The two middle schools serve Grades 7 and 8 and utilize a team approach designed around a team of core teachers for math, English, reading, social studies, and science. The high school initiated a program of intensive or block scheduling in the 1995-1996 school year and serves students in Grades 9-12. The district currently employs 372 teachers and 260 non-instructional support staff. PMSD students have consistently scored above both the state and federal averages on the SAT exam. Over the past 5 years 70-75% of PMSD seniors have pursued post-secondary education.

Sullivan County School District
Sullivan County is located in the north-central region of Pennsylvania. The county is one of Pennsylvania's most rural, with a population of 6,556 (2000 Census). About 25% of the population is over the age of 62 and less than 20% of the population is school age. The Sullivan County School District (SCSD) is the only public school system in the county with two elementary schools (K-6) and one junior-senior high school (7-12). Enrollment has steadily declined over the last few years. The advantage is small class size. In both elementary schools, the average class size is 20 students to 1 teacher. At the high school with the exception of the fine arts and physical education, class size is 25 students or less to 1 teacher. Approximately 40% of the teachers have 20 or more years of experience and Master's Degrees. Teacher turnover is primarily due to retirements. Professional development is strongly promoted and sustained through Title IIA, state grants, and SCSD funds. Various educational programs are offered in the SCSD. Regular education, special education, gifted education, dual enrollment opportunities, full-day kindergarten, and vocational/technical/career programs are examples. Additional services are provided by the Student Assistance Program (SAP), guidance counselors, Title I staff, Transition Council, athletic trainer, and cooperating agencies. District committees such as Safety and Wellness focus both on staff and student priorities. Because of the geographical size of the county (478 square miles) and the willingness to partner with neighboring counties, SCSD shares services.
The commitment by the Sullivan County School Board for higher expectations and students meeting and exceeding standards has provided the impetus for raising student achievement. All schools and the District have met Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) according to No Child Left Behind requirements in 9 out of 10 years. The current School Performance Profile Score for Sullivan County Elementary School is 87.4. The current School Performance Profile for Sullivan County High School is 85.8. Furthermore, Sullivan County Elementary School has received the status of a high reward (progress) school. More information about the Sullivan County School District is available at www.collegecentral.com/trd
