Our living learning community is an inclusive residential experience that brings all Student Access and Support Services (SASS) students together in an area exclusively for SCHOLARS! You will be surrounded by fellow SASS students together in the West Villages of our residence halls. You will be in an environment designed to promote mutual support, respect, wellness, leadership, and understanding.

This community it a great way for students to find their space, build a support system, and network with faculty in a living learning environment.

Our First-Generation students will have support for their specific needs and interest of first-generation upper classmen. This community fosters growth and academic achievement as students become familiar with resources, departments, and other support services.
