Millersville University Editorial Style Guide

Millersville University Editorial Style Guide

To achieve a consistent and high quality standard of writing, the Office of University Communications developed an editorial style guide for faculty, staff and students at Millersville University. This guide addresses style issues specific to Millersville including the official names of campus buildings/locations, lecture titles and more. The Office of University Communications recommends following the Associated Press Stylebook as a secondary reference source for writing. For questions, please contact Patricia Coulson, assistant director of communications, at 717-871-5826 or Pat.Coulson@millersville.edu.

For more information, check out Millersville University’s organizational charts: millersville.edu/about/pdfs/AllCampusOrg.pdf.

Millersville University of Pennsylvania

- When writing for a formal or outside audience (e.g., news release) use the full name, “Millersville University of Pennsylvania,” on first reference. Subsequent references may be “Millersville University” or simply “Millersville” if the meaning is clearly understood to be the institution, not the town.
- If using “University” to refer to Millersville University, capitalize University.
- When writing for internal publications, there is no need to write “Millersville University of Pennsylvania.”

Academic Degrees

See Degree

- For bachelor’s and master’s degree, lower case and use an apostrophe.
Examples: She has a bachelor’s degree in English. He has his master’s degree in biology. She is taking a master’s level course.

Note: Include “degree” after bachelor’s or master’s when writing for an outside audience (e.g., news releases, the Review magazine)

- There is no possessive in Bachelor of Arts, Master of Science or associate degree.
- Use caps for proper names of degrees.
  Example: Mark earned a Master of Education degree in special education.
- Use such abbreviations as A.A., B.A., B.S., M.A., M.Ed. and Ph.D. only when the need to identify many individuals by degree on first reference would make the preferred form cumbersome. Use these abbreviations only after a full name – never after just a last name, and set off by commas.

Academic Departments

See Department

- When “department” comes first, capitalize.
  Example: Department of History.
- When “department” follows, do not capitalize, except for words that are proper nouns or adjectives.
  Examples: history department; English department.
- At Millersville University, academic units are called departments.

Academic Sessions

- Do not capitalize; write sessions as follows:
  - spring semester
  - summer session
  - fall semester
  - winter session

Academic and Administrative Titles

- Capitalize and spell out formal titles such as chancellor, chairman, dean, etc., when they precede a name. Lowercase elsewhere.
  Examples: Chairman Richard Smith will conduct the meeting. Richard Smith, chairman, will conduct the meeting.
- Instructor in (not of).
- Professor of (not in).
- Research associate in (not of).

Acronyms

- Spell out full name on first reference and place the acronym in parentheses only if the full name will be referenced again.

Acting/Interim

- When an individual is still in a position and assuming another title, “acting” is used.
- When no one else is in the position, the term “interim” is used.
- Always lowercase, but capitalize any formal title that may follow before a name.
Example: acting Mayor Peter Barry.

Addresses
- Use the abbreviations Ave., Blvd. and St. only with a numbered address.
  Example: 207 N. George St.
- Spell out and capitalize when the address is part of a formal street name without a number.
  Example: Pennsylvania Avenue.
- Lowercase and spell out when used alone or with more than one street name.
  Example: Massachusetts and Pennsylvania avenues.
- All similar words (alley, drive, road, terrace, etc.) are always spelled out. Capitalize them when part of a formal name without a number; lowercase when used alone or with two or more names.
- Always use figures for an address number.
  Example: 207 N. George St.
- Use periods in the abbreviation P.O. for box numbers.
  Example: P.O. Box 1002

Advisor
- Use advisor not adviser; however, both references are acceptable.

Affect/Effect
See Effect/Affect
- Affect, as a verb, means to influence.
  Example: The game will affect the standings.
- Avoid affect as a noun.
- Effect, as a verb, means to cause.
  Example: He will effect many changes in the company.
- Effect, as a noun, means result.
  Example: He miscalculated the effect of his actions. It was a law of little effect.

Ages
- Always use figures for people and animals.
- Use hyphens for ages expressed as adjectives before a noun or as substitutes for a noun.
  Examples: A 5-year-old boy; the boy is 5 years old. The boy, 7, has a sister, 10. The woman is in her 30s (no apostrophe).

Alumnus
- Alumnus, alumni, alumna, alumnae.
- Use alumnus (alumni in the plural) when referring to a male or when the gender is unknown.
- Use alumna (alumnae in the plural) for similar references to a female.
- Use alumni when referring to a group of men and women.

Comma (,)

• Use commas to separate elements in a series, but do not put a comma before the conjunction in a simple series.
  Example: The flag is red, white and blue. He would nominate Tom, Dick or Harry.

Commencement

• Millersville University holds three commencement ceremonies:
  o One commencement ceremony in December (undergraduate only).
  o Two commencement ceremonies in May (graduate and undergraduate).

Composition Titles

• Capitalize the following: Newspapers, computer game titles, movie titles, opera titles, play titles, poem titles, album and song titles, radio and television program titles and works of art.

• Italicize book titles, journal titles.

• Use quotation marks around lecture, speech and song titles, journal articles and books that are primarily catalogs, which include almanacs, directories, dictionaries, encyclopedias, gazetteers, handbooks and similar publications.

• Capitalize the principal words including prepositions and conjunctions of four or more letters.

• Capitalize an article—the, a, an—or words of fewer than four letters if it is the first or last word in the title.

• Translate a foreign title into English unless a work is known to the American public by its foreign name.
  Example: Rousseau’s War, not Rousseau’s La Guerre
Corporate University (CorpU)
  • Website: millersville.edu/graduate/programs/noncreditprograms/Corporate%20Univeristy/index.php

Council of Trustees (COT)
  • The trustees are an active, valuable supporting force for Millersville University. The President frequently consults with trustees on University issues and they assist with public relations and advancement. Trustees further support the University by serving actively on the Strategic Planning and Resource Council, the campaign cabinet and the boards of affiliated organizations. They also participate in diversity workshops and other University events.
  • Website: millersville.edu/president/trustees.php

Course Titles
  • For official course titles, capitalize the principal words. Example: Students enrolled in the Civil War and Reconstruction course traveled to Gettysburg to experience the Civil War first-hand. In the Advanced Reporting course, students learn the history of journalism.

Courtesy Titles
  • Refer to both men and women by first and last name, without courtesy titles, on first reference. Example: Susan Brown or Robert Brown.
  • Refer to both men and women by last name, without courtesy titles, in subsequent references.
  • When it is necessary to distinguish between two people who use the same last name, as in married couples or brothers and sisters, use the first and last name on all references.
  • Use Mr., Miss, Ms. or Mrs. only in direct quotations or in special situations, such as mailings and name tags.
  • When a woman specifically requests it, for example, where a woman prefers to be known as Mrs. Susan Brown or Ms. Susan Brown.
  • In cases where a person’s gender is not clear from the first name or from the story’s context, indicate the gender by using he or she in subsequent references.

Dates
  • Use month followed by day: October 10.
  • Do not use European style: 10 October (day, month).
  • Do not use comma between month and year.
    Example: In December 2007, he graduated.

Days of the Week
  • Capitalize; do not abbreviate, except when needed in tabular format.

Degree
• For internal publications, such as the Exchange Newsletter and the Review Magazine: When referencing someone who has graduated from Millersville, write as follows: John Foster ’78 (apostrophe followed by year of degree).
• If the individual also received their master’s degree from Millersville, write as follows: John Foster ’78, ’82M (separate bachelor’s and master’s degrees with a comma; apostrophe followed by year of master’s degree followed by an “M”).
• Do not use this format for news releases or external publications, with the exception of the Exchange Newsletter and the Review Magazine (See Academic Degree).

Department
See Academic Departments
• When “department” comes first, capitalize.
  Example: Department of History
• When “department” follows, do not capitalize, except for words that are proper nouns or adjectives.
  Examples: history department, English department
• At Millersville University, academic units are called departments.

Doctor
• In first reference, use Dr. as a title when someone has earned a Ph.D. In second and subsequent references, use last name only.

• Effect, as a noun, means result.
  Example: He miscalculated the effect of his actions.

e.g. and i.e.
See i.e. and e.g.
• Use e.g. when designating for example.
• Use i.e. when designating such as.

Email
• One word, not e-mail. Use lowercase.

Emeritus
• Added to formal titles to denote individuals who have been awarded emeritus status by the Council of Trustees.
• When used, place emeritus after the formal title, in keeping with the general practice of academic institutions.
  Example: Professor Emeritus Samuel Eliot Morison.
  OR: Samuel Eliot Morison, professor emeritus of economics.
• Plural: emeriti.
• Male/Female: emeritus (male); emerita (female).

Entrepreneurial Leadership Center
• Website: millersville.edu/entrepreneurship/elc/index.php

- Do not use punctuation (GPA – correct; G.P.A. – incorrect).

Graduate courses
- Use graduate courses, not postgraduate courses.

Graduate-level
- Hyphenate only when used as a compound adjective.
  - Example: He is an excellent candidate for graduate-level courses.

Homecoming
- The parade that is held during Millersville University’s homecoming should be referred to as the Millersville Community Parade.

Honorary Alumnus, Honorary Degree
- Honorary alumnus is an award given by the Millersville University Alumni Association. Spell out award when using with a name.
- Honorary degree is given by Millersville University. Write as follows: John Smith ’08H (year of degree followed by H).
- All references to honorary degrees should specify that the degree was honorary.

Hyphens
- Use the hyphen to avoid ambiguity.
  - Example: The professor spoke to small-business owners.
- Use hyphen when compound modifiers (two or more words that express a single concept) precedes a noun.
  - Example: She secured a full-time job.
• Many combinations that are hyphenated before a noun are not hyphenated when they occur after a noun.
   Example: She works full time.
• Retain the hyphen after a form of the verb to be.
   Example: She is quick-witted. The movie was second-rate.
• The following words do not require a hyphen: nontraditional, fundraising, fundraiser, nonprofit, interdisciplinary, multipurpose.

i.e. and e.g.
See e.g. and i.e
• Use i.e. when designating such as.
• Use e.g. when designating for example.

Incorporated
• Abbreviate and capitalize as Inc. when used as part of a corporate name.
• Set off with commas before and after.
  Example: Student Lodging, Inc., offers housing opportunities adjacent to Millersville’s campus.

Innovator-in-Residence Program
• An annual program that invites an accomplished innovator to reside at Millersville University as a distinguished visitor for 2-4 days. The insights, achievements and impact of the innovator are the focus of public presentations, classroom appearances, and other interactive activities during the stay. The broader objectives of the program are to promote the understanding and pursuit of innovation among our students and the community in such areas as, but not limited to, the arts, sciences, technology and social entrepreneurship.
• Website: millersville.edu/specialevents/events/innovator-in-residence.php

- Miller and S’Ville reside in The Pond, which is also known as “Swan Pond” and/or “The Lake.”
- Swans have been present on campus since 1966. They were first named Fred and Ethel, voted by the students in 1978, until they became Miller and S’Ville in 1987.
Telephone Numbers

• Use figures and hyphens, not periods.
• Do not use parentheses with area code.
  Example: 800-111-1000 (form to follow for any number).
• If extension numbers are used, use a comma to separate the main number from the extension, and use ext.
  Example: 800-111-1000, ext. 1000.

That/Which

See Which/That

• Use that and which in referring to an inanimate object/animals without a name.
• Use that for essential clauses important to meaning of the sentence, and without commas.
  Example: I can’t remember the day that we met.
• Use which for nonessential clauses, where the pronoun is necessary, and use commas.
  Example: The library, which is open to the public, has thousands of books.
  TIP: If you can drop the clause and not lose the meaning of the sentence, use which; otherwise, use that.
