Export License Exception Certification
Complete ONLY if boxes under International Travel on page 1 are checked

Unlike the export of information resulting from fundamental research, the export of tangible items, commercial software and encryption code is subject to export control regulations. The Export Administration Regulations (EAR) however, make an exception to license requirements for the temporary export or re-export of certain tangible items or software for professional use as long as specific criteria to which you are certifying are met.

NOTE: This certification does NOT apply to laptops, PDAs, cell phones or digital storage devices incorporating information or software code designed for use in/with satellites, spacecraft or other defense articles that is not already in the public domain. If this situation applies to you, contact your university's designated office for an export license determination.

Detailed description of item to which this certification applies:

(Brand/Model and PASSHE/University Barcode Tag Number/Serial Number (if any) of items(s), list of software installed, etc. Continue on additional sheet if needed.)

By my signature below, I certify that:

1. I will take the items, technology or software abroad ONLY as a "tool of trade" to conduct University business;
2. I will return the items, technology or software to the U.S. no later than 12 months from the date of leaving the U.S. unless they are certified by me to have been consumed or destroyed aboard during this 12 month period;
3. I will keep the items, technology or software under my "effective control" while abroad (defined as retaining physical possession of an item or maintaining it in a secure environment – such as a locked hotel business office safe (not a hotel room safe) or secure facility);
4. I will not take the items to Cuba, Iran, North Korea, Syria, or Sudan unless I have received approval from PASSHE's Export Control Officer in writing;
