Time Commitment:

International engagement plays an extremely important part in providing a life-long connection to MU. For a small investment of time, you can make a major difference within your region's alumni community. The amount of time you commit to this volunteer position is largely up to you. To meet the minimum responsibilities may only take a few hours throughout the year. However, if you choose to plan more gatherings, manage a social media page, or work with a small committee, it could take additional time.
