COMMENCEMENT WEEK—1920

Model School Commencement

The fourteenth annual commencement of the high school department of the Model School was held in the Normal School Chapel on Friday afternoon, June 18. After the devotional exercises conducted by Rev. H. E. Wiand, the salutatory oration was given by Helen E. Glick, whose theme was, "The Privileges and Duties of an American Citizen." Anna Harnish, who was awarded third honor, gave the class history and prophecy. Irene E. Eshelman recited "King Volmer and Elsie," and the valedictory address on "Making Good" was presented by Edna M. Nissley. An interesting and instructive address to the class was given by Hon. J. I. Woodruff, of Susquehanna University, author of the Woodruff Salary Bill in the State Legislature. He spoke on "The Relation of Education to Our Country." Music was furnished by the School Orchestra and by the High School pupils. C. Geiger Sherts presented the class gift, which consisted of a bronze tablet in memory of Ralph Weller, a deceased member of the class, and also a purse of fifty dollars, which will probably be used for a drinking fountain.

The class roll numbers nine: Irene E. Eshelman, Helen E. Glick, Anna D. Harnish, Abram E. Herr, Norman G. Herr, Ethel E. Kendig, Myra E. MacDongall, Edna M. Nissley, C. Geiger Sherts.

The High School Alumni Association held their annual meeting and banquet in the Normal dining room on Friday evening. The officers are: President, Nelson Landis, '11; Vice-President, Edna Miller Shellenberger; Secretary, Nellie Book, '07; Treasurer, Mary E. Aierstuck. The class of 1920 was presented by Principal Frederick H. Gaige. Toasts were given by Marie Rees, '15; Arthur Zimmerman, '14, and Geiger Sherts, '20. Elverna Herr, '11, and Frances Warfel, '13, furnished music, and a recitation was given by Edward Weller, '17.

Principal's Reception

Dr. and Mrs. Gordinier entertained the Trustees, the Faculty, and the Seniors very delightfully in the Normal chapel on Saturday evening, June 19. The chapel was beautifully decorated with a profusion of roses. Easy chairs in place of the ordinary benches gave it an entirely changed and homelike appearance. In receiving the guests, Dr. and Mrs. Gordinier were assisted by Judge and Mrs. Landis, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Landis, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Hull, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sherts and Miss Amanda Landes. Music was furnished by Miss Taylor and Miss Weishampel of the music department. The evening was pleasantly spent and was one which the Seniors and their friends will remember as one of the most delightful of their commencement activities.

Baccalaureate Sunday, June 20, 1920

The baccalaureate service was held in the Normal School Chapel. The Senior Class, attired in the regulation cap and gown, marched in stately manner into the chapel and took their places to the music of a singularly beautiful and appropriate processional, played by Miss Helen Weishampel. The congregation was increased by many members of the village churches all of which suspended services that morning. The Rev. Mr. Finck of St. Paul's Lutheran church, read the Scripture Lesson. The two anthems, sung by the choir, were "Hark, Hark My Soul!" and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You." In the first, the solo parts were taken by Miss Margaret Swift and Miss Edith Taylor. A duet, "Love Divine! All Love Excelling" by Miss Taylor and Mr. Leslie Shumaker was very well rendered.

The baccalaureate sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. John T. Reeve, of the First Presbyterian church of Lancaster. Dr. Reeve announced as his subject, "Man's Supreme Ideal." He spoke first of the various objects which persons may have in life and of the ruling passion which each person does have. This ruling passion has been defined as the "Concentrated Energy of the Soul." Dr. Reeve emphasized the fact that the greatest of all ideals is that we should "do all to the glory of God" even in the commonest things of life. Too many people today put their religion into water tight compartments, and use it only on Sunday. Religion should be in every relationship in life. He spoke of the connection of religion and learning. Learning must not be separated from Jesus Christ. He was the great teacher. There are many examples to show that where religion is strongest, young people seek education. It is the duty of teachers to bring their pupils to the knowledge of God. The reasons why this is the best end for life were explained. First, because we are God's creation. The purpose of the universe is to seek the glory of God and not selfish happiness. Second, because we have been redeemed by him. Third, because of the ennobling effect on character. Fourth, because it glorifies every human task. In the message, especially for the prospective teachers, Dr. Reeve urged them to "bring great principles to bear on the most trifling duties." The salvation of America depends upon the teachers and they must, therefore, be of the highest moral and religious character besides being technically efficient.

—Examiner and Era, June 21.

Vesper Service

The beautiful weather of the morning was followed by a light rain in the late afternoon and it was necessary to change the place of the last vesper service to the school chapel. Dr. Hull presided and after the customary song service introduced Rev. John I. Reeve of the Millersville Methodist church, who gave a most inspiring talk on "Faith, the victory that overcometh the World."

Oratorical Contest and Musical Entertainment

The program on Monday evening, the 21st, was a combination of a junior oratorical contest between the Page and Normal societies for the Class of '95 prize, and an elocutionary and musical entertainment. The contestants in oratory with their subjects were: Harvey T. Goodling, Landisburg, "The Present Situation;" Florence Miller, Lancaster, "Justification of Prohibition;" J. Paul Sauder, Millersville, "Respect;" and Harry Showalter, Landisville, "For the Sake of Your Country." Miss Miller of the Page Society, won the prize, with honorable mention of Mr. Showalter. The judges were Mrs. Eugene L. Herr, Mr. J. W. Brenneman, and Rev. W. E. Pottinger.

The musical numbers were a vocal solo, "Lady, Sweet Lady," by Loraine Musselman, a flute solo, "Minuet" by J. Lloyd Bohn, a cello solo, "O Dry Those Tears" by Robert Trucksess, and a duet, flute and violin, "Sounds from the Alps," by Lazaro Milaor and J. Lloyd Bohn.

Class Day Exercises

From Intelligencer, June 22.

The class day exercises of the class of 1920 of Millersville State Normal School were held in the Normal School chapel this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The chapel was beautifully decorated for the occasion with the class flower, red rambler roses. While music was played by the school orchestra, the class in academic cap and gown, filed into the chapel and took their places.

The opening feature of the program was the address by the president of the class, Mr. Fuhman Bailey. This was followed by a piano solo, "Pierrette an de Ballet," played by Miss Mary Mast, who showed considerable technical skill in her rendition of a difficult selection. Mr. Ivan Houck delivered the class oration on the subject of the class motto, "Still Higher." Miss Helen H. Snively, who is quite a favorite at the Normal because of her ability along elocutionary lines, next recited "Billy Brad and the Big Lie," in her usual charming manner. This was followed by a sextet, consisting of Misses Miriam Bard, Elizabeth Murray, Anna Brubaker, Elizabeth Stambaugh, Adeline Reiver and Mary Hellyer. According to a long established tradition, the principal, Dr. Gordinier, then presented to the class an ivy plant, which is a symbol of the perpetuation of the name of the class of 1920. Miss Mary Roumfort accepted the ivy in the name of the class. Miss Helen Martin played a piano solo, "Zampa's Overture," very beautifully. The class poem was read by Miss Miriam Krieder. A violin solo, "Schubert's Serenade," was played by Mr. Edward Ford, in a manner showing his interpretative skill. Mr. James Sullivan delivered the mantle oration and Miss Helen Rork, of the class of 1921, received the mantle. The class song of which the words were by Miss Miriam Krieder and the music by Miss Mary Mast, was sung by the class. In order to avoid the monotony which might result from having all the presentations at one time, the class very wisely had them divided into three groups and at different times during the program. The presentation orators were Misses Elma Kozer, Frances Beatty, Viola Mease, Beulah Keith and Marie Hartman, and Messrs. Wayde Kelly and Reeder Eshelman.

The officers of the class are as follows: President, Furrman Bailey; vice-president, Fred Baker; secretary, Gertrude Stayer; assistant secretary, Marie Hartman, and treasurer, Frances Beatty.

Commencement Concert

At 8 o'clock Tuesday evening the commencement concert was held in the chapel. The title of the concert was "In the Good Old Times," representing a place "down in ole Virginny" about 1850. The play was suggested by the Lancaster Musical Art Society, and arranged by Misses Conard, Landes, Taylor and Weishampel. The dancing in the minuet and Lady Washington's reel was directed by Miss Conard.

Act I opened with a scene in "ole Virginny," with grandma, Miss Esther Bower, telling a story at the request of little Virginia, (Anna Wallace) and George (Charles Gordinier). Grandma begins to tell the story and then it is finished by others appearing on the stage and completing it by acting or singing. The first story was of an old colored Mammy who used to sing a lullaby to grandma. This role was admirably acted and sung by Miss Margaret Sauder, of Lancaster. The next story was of and by Uncle Mose, which was graphically told by Furrman Bailey. Miss Harriet Hopkins represented grandma at the age of seven. Next was the negro song and dance by Jacob Landis, Frederick Spanmuth, Henry Keith and Wayde Kelly. Then came the chorus of the negro spirituals. The next story was about the minuet grandma used to dance. Those taking part were Josephine Miller, as grandma in olden days: William Landefelt, as grandpa, and Ethel Feagley, Dorothy Johnson, Mabel Gerber, Michael McGovern, Carl Hurlock and Carl Huber. The act closed with a song written by Hopkinson, America's first composer, by Dorothy Johnson.

In Act II grandma tells about Indian songs, by a squaw. These were acted and sung by Mildred Fellenbaum. The next song was about the Kentucky mountain girl and the songs this mountainous wild-flower would sing were capably given by Margaret Sauder.

Act III opened with the story and performance of the old time quilting bee, with popular songs of colonial days. The last number was Lady Washington's reel. The dancers in this country dance were Janet Miller, Frances Beatty, Merna Street, Leone Hanawalt, Josephine Miller, Helen Martin, William Landefelt, James Drennan, Huber Gemmill, Harry Showalter, Samuel Strickler, Ivan Houck. Uncle Eb, the fiddler, who furnished the music and called the different steps, was acted and played by Robert Trucksess.—Examiner and Era, June 24.

Commencement Exercises

The sixty-sixth annual commencement of the school was held in the chapel on the morning of Wednesday, June 23rd. Long before the appointed time the spacious chapel, beautiful in its new frescoing and adorned for the occasion with masses of red rambler roses, was filled with expectant friends and relatives, waiting for the Senior processional preceding the exercises. One of the numbers not on the printed program was the presentation of a handsome silk flag to the school by the principal. The orations touched mostly present day topics and were of a high order of excellence. That of the valedictorian, Miss Ethel Feagley, "You and I and a Book," was especially commendable in its evidence of literary appreciation, and her farewell remarks were most sympathetic and graceful. The musical numbers started with a violin solo by Lazaro Milaor, the Filipino member of the class, and included a piano solo by Mary Mast, also of 1920. Miss Edith Taylor, vocal teacher, made her last public appearance here in a pleasing solo, "The Spring Has Come." Dorothy Johnson's recitation was fully up to the high mark of former years. Alumni Meetings

The business meeting of the Alumni Association was held on Wednesday afternoon, with Geo. W. McIlhenny '80 in the chair.

The committee of three appointed last year to consider the advisability of amending one of the by-laws so that the Alumni meeting may be held the afternoon preceding commencement asked for an extension of time for their report and it was granted.

The report of the treasurer, Dr. Geo. W. Hull, showed a balance of $51.69. The amount contributed this year, Twenty-six Dollars, was ordered to be turned over to the Alumni Loan Fund. H. C. Symons, Treasurer of the Alumni Fund, distributed printed copies of his report, showing the present amount of the fund $1,557.89.

Resolutions of esteem and good wishes were unanimously passed and ordered to be sent to Miss Anna Hartman, only surviving member of the first class, 1858, and to Miss Anna Lyle, '66, both many years teachers in the school.

The election of officers for next year resulted as follows: President, Dr. H. E. Randall, '81; Vice-President, Mary Brecht Pulver, '01; Secretary, Sarah H. Gilbert, '77; Treasurer, Dr. Geo. W. Hull, '74.

Mr. Symons, treasurer of the school, told the cost of the frescoing of the chapel, which the alumni had been asked to undertake. The scaffolding cost 435 dollars, the decorations 1650 dollars, and the lighting 275 dollars, a total of 2360 dollars. The Alumni to date had contributed 1397 dollars and the trustees so far had paid the balance, 963 dollars.

Dr. Gordinier presented the class of 1920 as new members. He spoke of the new course of study prescribed by the State department, of the employment of additional critic teachers, of the retirement of Miss Amanda Landes and some others from the faculty this year and of the large registration for the summer school and the fall term, and asked for the continued cooperation of the Alumni in advancing the interests of the school.

The decennial classes met for the reading of their class histories on the adjournment of the regular business meeting.

The Alumni Supper

Nearly five hundred assembled in the Normal Chapel at five o'clock to march in order by classes to the Normal dining room for the annual Alumni supper. Bouquets and trailing sprays of red and pink rambler roses enhanced the beauty of the tables. The following menu was served by the Normal steward, A. H. Palmer:

And health on both"—Shakespeare: Macbeth.

Lenhardt, '10, gave a recitation, "Back to Millersville," by John L. Shroy, '87.

Singing by the banqueters and by classes added liveliness to the occasion. Two new songs of those sent in for the prize offered by the NORMAL JOURNAL were printed on the menu and were tried out for the first time. The one given below was awarded the prize by the judges. The second, by Anna M. Wetterars, '83, will be published later.

Where helpful guides prevailed always,

Our Normal earns renown and praise,

Millersville! My Millersville!

We love our Alma Mater dear,
Millersville! My Millersville!

Her name we cherish and revere,
Millersville! My Millersville!

Unfurl her pennants, black and

The Decennial Classes

CLASS OF 1860

Dr. Thos. R. Baker, Winter Park, Fla., and Solomon Z. Sharp, Fruita, Calif., are the survivors of the eight members. Dr. Baker is curator of the "Thomas R. Baker Museum" at Rollins College. He has made trips to Jamaica and to Egypt in the last decade and was married in 1918 to Mary Evans, a botanist and author. He writes, "At the end of the coming decade I hope to be able to report still another period of vigorous activity and even to attend the meeting of the Association, at which an opportunity may offer for my response to the toast 'After Seventy Years.'"

CLASS OF 1870.

The historian writes, "On that wonderful day of July, 1870, twenty-six of us stood proudly in the old chapel to receive our diplomas. Of these, eleven have passed to the other side, leaving fifteen survivors, a goodly number after fifty years."

Rev. Albert J. Cook, Rev. James M. Johnston and Mrs. Marianna Gibbons Brubaker came in person to the semi-centennial reunion, and all but two sent their histories accompanied by regrets at their inability to be present. These articles, though modestly written, show a record of achievement in these fifty years of which their Alma Mater may well be proud. Mrs. Brubaker, class historian, has been a life long and energetic worker in the W. C. T. U., the Prohibition party, and other reform organizations, and rejoices in having seen "the downfall of the liquor traffic, the greatest peaceful revolution in human history." Rev. John R. Hykes is secretary of the China agency of the American Bible Society in Shanghai. He was actively interested in the translation of the Bible into Mandarin and Wenli, a task of twenty-eight years. He passed through the Boxer uprising unhurt, but read his own obituary notice afterward. The circulation of the Scriptures during his administration of the agency has amounted to over twenty million copies. Geo. R. Prowell, York, has written a number of works on local history and built up a library and museum of thousands of volumes and specimens for the York County Historical Society. Rev. Mr. Johnston reports that he has served 16 charges, preached 6450 times, married 234 couples, made 29,600 visits, and received into the church 1540 people. J. Gilpin Pyle is librarian of the James Jerome Hill reference library in St. Paul, and the author of a life of the railroad magnate of the Northwest after whom it was named. Dr. Delap, oculist in Kansas City, writes that though in his 74th year he has lost only three days on account of sickness in the last forty years. Louisa Wright Russell is a minister in the Society of Friends. Phebe W. Weakley, Cameron, Illinois, sent some verses from which we quote—

O Normalites and Pageites too,
Most fragrant are my thoughts of you!
When dreaming of the Long Ago
A magic spell sets hearts aglow.

CLASS OF 1880

There were thirty-seven members in the class of 1880, and so far as known twenty-seven are still living. Of these the following came back to celebrate the fourth decennial reunion: Margaretta Cheyney, Bertha I. Collins Herbert, Martha McCulley, Dora E. Rogers, Mary H. Whitson, George W. McIlhenny, Henry W. Sterner, and Lloyd Smith. Wm.

I. Hibbs, historian, was undergoing treatment for his eyes in the Orthopaedic Hospital, Philadelphia, and his place was taken by Lloyd Smith, who read the history. Mrs. Herbert, whose home is Glasgow, Scotland, traveled farthest to be here on the happy occasion, and must have felt repaid for she said that she was coming again at the end of the next decade if by that time she had to be taken about in a wheel chair. (With her present vigor there seems little danger of that.) She has been an ardent Red Cross worker in her new old country and spoke in interesting way at the general meeting on "Scotland and the War." Mary Whitson is actively engaged in Friends' Reconstruction work and supervises the packing of thousands of garments and other articles sent from Philadelphia to the workers on the other side. Dora E. Rogers is mistress of the charming Washington home of her brother Walter, a student here in the '80's, now a successful lawyer. Emma Young Haem, since bereaved of her husband in California, makes her home with her daughter in Chicago. George W. McIlhenny presided over the alumni meeting and was toastmaster at the banquet. Martha McCulley, Lancaster, has stayed nearer the old Normal Home than any one else in the class. The class has left a memorial at their Alma Mater in the bronze bust of Dr. Edward Brooks, which occupies in the newly decorated chapel the very place they chose for it twenty years ago when it was presented. The acting historian writes of the Alumni meeting, "It has been good to be here, to clasp again hands which pledged friendship in the days long gone, to listen to voices which were once music to our ears, and to realize that although our paths have been wide apart all too long, today they have crossed again and we have met face to face."

"Happy are we met,
Happy have we been,
Happy may we part,
And happy meet again."

CLASS OF 1890

"In '90," writes the historian, "our number was forty-six; today we are thirty-eight. That Normal principles were well impressed upon the class is evident from the fact that fifty per cent of the class are still working in the educational field, most of them as principals or supervisors. We are proud of our teachers and of the work they are doing. Aside from the teachers we are largely a class of ones, for we have one of each of these: physician, Mann of Columbia; nurse, Mrs. Snyder of York; banker, Mentzer of Denver; U. S. Customs officer, Minnich of Philadelphia; LL. B., Eshleman of Lancaster; postmaster, Bernhardt of Northampton; lawyer, Donovan of Reading; corporation manager, Hoff of Mount Wolf; weighmaster, Flickinger of Lebanon; bookkeeper, Hankins of Harrisburg; R. R. clerk, Lewis of York; insurance, Sieger of Coplay. We must not forget the most important part of our class, the housekeepers, our eight matrons."

Those present at the reunion were: Blanche McNeal Smith, Amy Sprague Mattern, H. Frank Eshleman, D. S. Hankins, Franklin D. Harshman, B. F. Heiges, S. W. McClure, Alvin W. Mentzer, S. W. Minnich. Gertrude Brosius Coho from Mount Vernon, N. Y., sent a telegram of regret and a promise to be on hand next time. The faithful historian, D. S. Hankins, read the history which he had collected. Amy Sprague Mattern has been abroad twice, once as far as Egypt and Constantinople. Margaret Brosnahan Schlauch, 2d, is working for Ph. D. at Columbia. B. F. Heiges has been Asst. Co. Supt. in Lancaster County for the past two years. Alvin Mentzer's report as cashier of Denver National bank shows totals of a million and a quarter dollars. Franklin Harshman writes, "I feel it was in the schoolroom that I did my best work and I am glad to number the girls and boys who formed the classes, among my very closest friends." We quote from Martha Rippel, "With better things coming for teachers, it surely was worth while graduating from Millersville Normal School, but it seems sad that we have less time to continue in the work than we had thirty years ago."

CLASS OF 1900

The class of "Naughty-naught" numbered a hundred and thirty-eight on their Commencement Day, of whom ten have passed to the higher life, five each decade since graduation. The catalogue shows that fifty-seven of the girls have changed their names; most of the rest are in the teaching profession, to which one-third of the boys are still loyal. The class is represented at their Alma Mater by H. C. Symons, Treasurer, who left no stone unturned to make the 20th anniversary a success. They began to come in on Monday and by Wednesday about half of the class were on hand. They had a sumptuous banquet in the annex of the Normal dining room on Tuesday evening after the Commencement entertainment, to which sixty-eight sat down. H. C. Symons was toastmaster and at his call there were speeches by Anna M. Black, Mabel Young, Oscar Hawn, and Herbert Marquette. Besides the rich menu cards song sheets with school songs and other popular songs were provided for all.

On Wednesday afternoon they met in the Normal Chapel for the reading of the class history compiled by Anna Baker Fridy and Herbert L. Marquette. Those present during the week were: H. C. Symons and wife, Amos K. Stauffer and wife, Della Ulsh Edwards, Mae Chester Matter, Edith Wenger Umble, E. Belle Thompson, Sara Whitaker Althouse, Christie Hartman Gish, Clara Lickel Blaine, Emma Bucher Mathias, Emmarine Effinger, J. R. Barnett and wife, James H. Martin, C. Oscar Hawn and daughter, Elva E. Horner, Lulu Hall Pratt, Anna

Baker Friday, Edith Kauffman Grebinger, Herbert L. Grebinger, Alice Butzer Myers, Sara Lanius Harry, husband and children, Mary Goch-nauer, Alice M. Rowe, Grace Aucker Lark, Margaret Simmonds Horner, Katherine Hock, Ella Anders Rushong, Mary Anders Rogers, Edna Hergesheimer Kuhns, Frank H. Herr and wife, Clara Buckwalter Siegrist, Graybill Minnich, D. W. Hildebrand, John N. Evans, Kathryn Baker Grosh, Edith Eshleman Kauffman, Mary Lehman, Anna C. Euston, Elizabeth Brubaker Everitt, Stella Leopold Wade, Florence Archer Johnson, K. Bernice Eckman, Emma Martin Kummer, Edith Kautz Nissley and children, Grace Miller Ebershade, Herbert L. Marquette and S. M. Heisey and wife.

CLASS OF 1895

The class with their usual initiative, decided to insert a quarter-centennial reunion between the second and third decennials, and pushed it through in happy manner. Twenty-six came back, and husbands, wives, and children accompanying them about doubled the number. They had a picnic lunch on Commencement Day under the locust trees beyond the gymnasium; a sudden shower drove them into the building where they ate their ice-cream and listened to the latest version of "Who's Who in America and Japan."

The historian, Edna Albert writes:

"A hasty and incomplete survey of the class resulted in some highly interesting figures which doubtless need as much revision as Dr. Heilig's glib recital of the dates of the birth of his children:

102 members at graduation.

14 deceased of whom 3 met with sudden and violent death.

60 married.

81 children, 72 of whom are living and 3 of whom were present at the reunion.

16 different states besides Porto Rico and Japan have been honored by the residence therein of members of our class.

7 members have been graduated at college.

12 members are graduates of professional schools.

20 occupations keep us busy, teaching or homemaking claiming the majority.

The gossip attendant upon the reading of "Who's Who" absorbed the class so completely that they had no opportunity to attend the general alumni meeting. It is planned to avoid such seeming neglect of larger duties at the 30th anniversary by having "Who's Who" come out in time for distribution to each member on Commencement Day. One very pleasant feature of our anniversary was the vote taken to send a gift of money to our classmate, Mr. Mosser Smyser, who is a missionary in Japan. The members of the class who were not present will be given a chance to share in this pleasant exercise of thinking about folks other than themselves, also. The members of the class wish to express their deep appreciation of the beautiful courtesy extended to them by their dear Alma Mater through the kindness of everyone connected with the school. It adds much to the joy of coming back to be made so obviously welcome. The class realizes that in decrepitude we did not come up to the expectations of the younger classes: we hope to remedy that defect by 1965." The members in attendance were: Edna Albert, Lydia Baker Gochenaur, Mercy Fridy Miller, Anna Gherst Shank, Cora B. Hershey, Elizabeth Hunter Neurath, Geneva Johnson Gall, Georgia Jones Galbreath, Elsie McConnell Metcalfe, Gertrude Miller Lynch, Mary M. Moll, Martha Moore Tipton, Mary Newcomer, Anna M. Weaver, Irene Wirt Bortree, Ray Young Terry, Elmer E. Brubaker, Charles W. Eisenhower, Clarence L. Hauser, Wm. R. Heilig, Abraham B. Kauffman, Bartholomew J. Lynch, Robert O. Metcalfe, Wm. O. Moyer, Abraham D. Sauder, Henry W. Tobias.

CLASS OF 1910

The ten-year-olds came back in numbers for their first decennial reunion. They began with a banquet at Hotel Rossmere on Tuesday evening where besides a menu of many courses, which included Lancaster county chicken and waffles, they had a feast of reason and flow of soul in connection with the following program: Address by President, Jonas W. Bucher; Reminiscences of our Alma Mater, Charlotte Madenford; Piano solo, Ruth Bankes Clemmer; Reading, Esther Lenhardt; My Visit to England, Currence Beard; impromptu toasts by Miles Hummer, Walter B. Aierstuck and others. The history compiled by Myrtle Fiero Hunt and D. Harper Quail was read at the Normal next day.

The class numbered 114 of whom four have died. We glean a few notes from the record sent us by courtesy of D. Harper Quail.

Raymond W. Hill (Lafayette '17), is secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Mercer County, N. Y. He is located at Princeton. Duncan Strawbridge, commissioned Captain of Infantry, had a brilliant war record in both British and American armies. He was at St. Mihiel, Meuse-Argonne, etc. He is now with the Guaranty Trust Co., New York City. Heasty Weahler, also in service across the sea, was wounded at Montfaucon by a bullet through the arm. Geo. W. Myers graduated as mining engineer at University of Pittsburgh in 1915 and is now geologist for the Sun Co. of Toledo. Mr. and Mrs. Myers (Ethyl Kinsey, '10) and their little son attended the Reunion. Ruth Bankes Clemmer graduated in piano and vocal at Broad Street Conservatory of Music before her marriage. Myrtle Fiero Hunt lives at Hillview Farm, Lambertville, N. J., where she says they raise berries, melons, and children. Sadie Golden teaches dancing in connection with her school work at Pottsville. Florence

McPherran writes of a glorious trip to Europe in 1913 attending the World's S. S. Convention. E. Viola Grove is in Khartoum, North Sudan, Africa, a missionary among the Mohammedans. The Twins' histories were combined in one, both answered for by Nancy. Do the teachers at Millersville realize that this was done many times in the class room during their student life? Charlotte Madenford's "Reminiscences" at the banquet were especially interesting and well delivered.

CLASS OF 1915

The five-year class has been making history fast. Twelve of the young men are veterans of the Great World War. Eleven members are college students or have already received degrees. About thirty are married and the class can boast of fourteen babies. The toll of the Grim Reaper is four. Marion Schumacher is teaching in Montana. J. Carlos and Sarah Weaber Lopez proudly announce two little daughters. Edgar Kehler was graduated from the Dental School at the University of Pennsylvania in 1919. He is practising dentistry in Allentown. Paul Carl is a lieutenant in the 45th Infantry stationed at Camp Dix. Anna Gross is a student at the University of California. She returned to Pennsylvania for the class reunion but expects to return to California to finish her course. Helen Herrick is planning to go to California to locate there permanently. Anna Houck is located in Tacoma, Washington, but is contemplating going to Honolulu this fall to teach there. Dora Johnson returned from Cayey, Porto Rico, where she had been teaching English. Her return trip was made with General Pershing and his party. She said that she had a thrill every minute of her life in Porto Rico. Marie McPoland has just returned from almost a year's work in France in the interest of the National Catholic War Council. On February 1, 1920, Miss Jennie Messerly became the bride of William A. Olweiler of York. Kathryn Millar Kraybill is the proud mother of a little girl, Margaret Adeline Kraybill, who came to grace their home on December 20, 1919.

CLASS OF 1918

After Class Day on June 22, 1920, the members of the class of 1918 held a business meeting. The following officers were elected: President, John U. Baker; Secretary, Frances Ryan; Treasurer, Claire Hoofnagle, Historians, Marion O'Neal, Mary Mensch, Charles Messner, Allen Brightbill. The class decided to have a reunion next year.

Those of the class present at Commencement were: Elsie Balmer, Kathryn Bard, Margaret Bollinger, Mildred Brand, Florence Caldwell, Katherine Doyle, Marion Esbenshade, Mary Fisher, Hilda Groninger, Susan Homsher, Mary Johnson, Marian Kreider, Bertha Kreider, Anna Leonhardt, Helen Lightner, Charlotte Lohman, Latora Markel, Florence

Mease, Helen Middleton, Lois Miller, Marion O'Neal, Grace Redman, Marie Rees, Miriam Reidenbach, Esther Siegel, Frances Ryan, Araminta Sentz, Della Streett, Joy Suiter, Argive Warren, Grace Wetzstein, Eleanor Witmer, Mary Yost, J. Urban Baker, J. Marion Brenner, William Drumm, Charles Messner, Bruce Nebinger, Walter Rutt, Harry Tothero.

A number of the girls received Cupid's arrow. They are: Ruth Coble, Beatrice Edmiston, Lorraine Mehaffey, and Argive Warren. Much to our surprise one of the boys fell under Cupid's magic power. He was no other than Paul Thompson.

Elsie Balmer expects to take the position of governess during the summer.

The Class will be glad to know that "Milly" Brand lives in proximity to the Normal.

Florence Caldwell received the degree of Bachelor of Science at the University of Pennsylvania in June. She will teach English in the high school at Wayne.

Claire Dodd has left us for the picturesque state of Colorado. Stories have floated to M—V that Lottie Cunningham expects to go "west." Best of success to you, Lottie.

Louisa Lillo is teaching in Santiago, Chile.

Let every member of the Class of 1918 start preparations now to come to the reunion in June.

June 27 to August 5, Summer Term (Six Weeks)

The Summer School

The summer school opened on June 28th with an enrollment of 250, which increases daily. Besides the studies of the regular course, classes in college English, college Latin and college Mathematics were formed, and a school of observation and practice was opened for the benefit of the teachers in attendance. In addition to many teachers of the Normal faculty the following are employed: Miss Bertha Eckhardt, music; Miss Winifred Woods, drawing and industrial arts; Miss Letitia B. Clark, Latin; Isaac F. Seiverling, '97, English; Lazaro Milaor, '20, Spanish; and B. F. Fisher, '01, Latin and English.

Athletics

The Normal School was represented by a strong baseball team during the past season but met with only fair success due to the many handicaps that had to be overcome. At the start of the season only a few players had the necessary experience to make a winning team and it was some time before the team struck its stride. Another factor was the lack of practice at the beginning of the season, but in May the team played in form, and won the last four games on the schedule. The schedule arranged by Mr. Symons was an especially long and difficult one and the team deserves credit for its showing. Bush and Lebo did the bulk of the battery work and did it well. Lebo proved to be a good catcher and hitter while Bush pitched some fine games only to lose through poor support. The infield was made up of Mitten, Uibel, Seacrist, and Noonan. Uibel, at second, played a dependable game although handicapped by an injured thumb. Seacrist's work at short could not be improved as he covered acres of ground and was one of the leading run-getters of the team. Noonan, at third, was always dependable and did his best work in a pinch.

The outfield consisted of Capt. R. Warfel, Rees, and Fisher, all of whom were excellent fielders and hitters, Keith and McClung, utility men, also were ready to step into the breach at any time and, when called upon, made good. Rees showed his versatility by pitching two games and should be a fine hurler for next year's team. The team lined up as follows:

Bush—pitcher	Rees—center-field
Mitten—1st base	Fisher—right field
Uibel—2nd base	McClung—utility
Seacrist—shortstop	Keith—utility
Noonan—3rd base

Deaths

A long list of those that have been called higher during the year is given elsewhere under Alumni Necrology. Many of them have been noted in previous issues.

KREADY—In the death of Benjamin Kready, February 6, 1920, the class of 1861 loses its last surviving member and the bar of Lancaster county, its oldest member aged 83. His two daughters, Elizabeth and Laura, are graduates of the school.

FLOUNDERS—Dr. Geo. W. Flounders, '83, chief examiner of the Board of Public Education in Philadelphia, died February 15, 1920. He established the first township high school in Pennsylvania, in Ashbourne, in 1883. It was said of him that he was "the most energetic worker connected with the Philadelphia educational system."

HAINES—Bell H. Mooney (Haines), '84, died at Kennett Square, Pa., April 16, 1920. Before her marriage she taught in the Normal department of Friends' Schools under care of Philadelphia yearly meeting and had trained many teachers for public and private school work. She taught in Mission night schools, was an active member of the W. C. T. U. and an earnest advocate of woman suffrage.

SHERTS—B. Miles Sherts, '15, died April 26, 1920. He was wounded in the Argonne fight, and in the Bordeaux hospital contracted pleuro pneumonia from which he never recovered. He was as truly a martyr to the cause as those that fell on the field of battle.

HARDING—Charles H. Harding, '66, a prominent financier of Philadelphia, died June 14, 1920. After his graduation he taught mathematics here for four years and was always much interested in the school and one of its benefactors. He was an intimate friend of the late Dr. E. O. Lyte. He was a director in many prominent financial institutions in Philadelphia, and for a long time president of the Bank of North America.

KRATZ—Mahlon Kratz, '70, died in Philadelphia, on February 17, 1920, in his seventy-third year. He had been for the last thirty years an active member of his profession of pharmacy.

AMANDA LANDES

Yes, we did a lot of work in our school W. C. T. U. during the year. The president with her staff of officers, Miss Gilbert, Jean Girvin, Anna Brubaker, Elsie Jackson, Arline Snyder, Edna Craley and Adeline Reiver assisted by a host of students kept things moving.

One of the first duties was to raise our quota of the Jubilee Fund. Our share was one hundred and sixty-five dollars, we raised one hundred and seventy-three dollars, most of it by personal contributions. Many thanks to those who helped us.

Our next concern was for the French orphans we are interested in, Paul and Yvonne Noirot. We had the Franklin and Marshall Academy Glee Club give a concert for us. Through that and a number of contributions we sent fifty-three dollars to France.

We held sixteen regular meetings, three public, three social, and ten executive meetings during the year. Our meetings were designed to keep our students interested and informed on prohibition and temperance subjects. We had for one meeting "John Barleycorn's Funeral," for another "John Barleycorn's Estate." We held a Christmas meeting, a Frances Willard meeting, a Model W. C. T. U. meeting, two Americanization meetings, a Constitutional Amendment meeting, a Jubilee meeting, a Citizenship meeting, a Lincoln meeting, a "Good Cheer" meeting and a First of April meeting. Our regular meetings were attended by an average of 86 persons, and at these meetings one hundred and two persons were proposed and elected to membership.

In May we held a membership contest, the sides being led by Anna Brubaker and Arline Snyder, which resulted in forty new members.

Our Union was represented at the County W. C. T. U. Institute held in Lancaster on June 12, by seven students who took part in the program.

We closed our year's work by holding a patriotic meeting on Flag Day on the Campus, at which Rev. Thompson McKinney spoke and a number of girls trained by Miss Conard gave a beautiful Flag Drill.

The Union will continue work next year with the following officers: President, Jean Girvin; Vice-President, Elsie Jackson; Secretary, Virgie Cassell; Corresponding Secretary, Anna Belle Myers; Treasurer, Sarah

H. Gilbert; Superintendent of Social Work, Marian Senger; Superintendent of Flower Mission Work, Ruth Buckwalter; Superintendent of Music, Mildred Fellenbaum.

Faculty Notes

The teachers of the permanent faculty that are working in the Summer School are Messrs. Gordinier, Dilworth, Hull, Roddy, Gaige, Symons and Lyte, Misses Duncan and Ganser and Mrs. Jenks.

Miss Landes sails from San Francisco on September 4th for Japan to attend the World's Sabbath School Convention in Tokio. The deepest regret is expressed on all sides that she has resigned her position here. She was invaluable to the school in so many ways outside of the successful management of her department of public speaking that it will be a long time before her place will be filled.

Miss Weishampel will take a Normal course at Peabody Institute summer school.

Miss Edith Taylor will spend some weeks in Michigan before returning to her home in North Bangor, New York. She will supervise music next year in Mount Kisco, New York.

Mr. Eberly has a clerical position with the Goodyear Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, for the summer.

Miss Wyckoff will be much missed next year as she leaves to go to a supervising position in Yonkers, New York.

Messrs. Brinser, Rodgers, and Stayer, who taught here in the spring term, will take graduate work in the School of Education at Harvard next year.

Mr. Trucksess enters the law course at the University of Pennsylvania and Mr. Granger will also take up college work.

Miss Anna Roddy, daughter of Dr. H. Justin Roddy, is taking a summer course at Columbia.

Geo. Ross Hull, son of Dr. G. W. Hull of the Faculty, has recently been appointed deputy attorney-general of Pennsylvania.

Normal Notebook

Good-by and good wishes to the 84 of 1920.

The Class of 1921 bids fair to be the largest in the history of the school. One hundred and eighty-five Juniors passed to Senior grade and their numbers may be increased by some that passed last year but did not return.

Two members of the Faculty are now appointed as deans for each of the classes. Dr. Hull and Miss Landes served as deans for 1920; for 1921, Mr. Dilworth and Miss Gilbert are deans; for 1922, Mr. Roddy and Miss Duncan; and for 1923, Mr. Symons and Miss Ganser.

The "Wearers of the M" for excellence in athletics the past year are: Football, R. Warfel, McClung, Kelly, Mitten, Hurlock, Sullivan, Brennan, Hartman, Huber, Reese, Fisher; Basketball: Brennan, Huber, Mitten, Reese, R. Warfel, C. Warfel; Baseball: Fisher, Keith, Bush, Lebo, McClung, Mitten, Noonan, Reese, Uibel, Seacrist, R. Warfel.

Memorial Day had the usual patriotic observance here. The monument was decorated and Model School children strewed the mound with flowers. Rev. T. C. Finck of the Lutheran Church, delivered an impressive address, Miss Landes recited, and there was spirited music by the choir.

On May 15th, the Christian Associations gave a joint entertainment to raise money to help defray the expenses of delegates to Silver Bay and Eaglesmere. Those that go to Eaglesmere are Kathryn Rambo, Minerva Lebo, Susan Bard, Ethel Stauffer, Adelaide Hawk, and Laura Walter. The Y. M. C. A. is represented at Silver Bay by Elmer Akers.

Billy Sunday delighted a big audience of students and villagers on March 4th, running away from his crowded meetings in Lancaster for a brief half hour here. His address, largely on the value of education, was filled with "Sundayisms" and telling points which brought out bursts of applause. He shook hands with everybody in reach on his march down the aisle and spent a few minutes in a game of snowball at the front gate.

At the Junior Sociable the leading feature of the entertainment was a pantomime presentation of Hiawatha. It was very effectively staged. The leading parts were taken by Emma Walter, Minnehaha; Mildred Fellenbaum, Nokomis; Harry Showalter, Hiawatha the youth; Bruce Fisher, Hiawatha the man. Helen Rorke read selected lines from the Longfellow version.

Dr. Hull represented the school at the enjoyable meeting of the Pittsburgh branch of the Alumni. The old officers were reelected: President, Geo. H. Quail, '73; Vice-President, Geo. R. Norris, '01; Secretary and Treasurer, David B. Pugh, '12.

Our girls have been very cordially invited to join the farmerettes this summer by Miss Virginia McComb, who gave a talk to them on "The Land Army."

Dr. Sina Stratton, of Philadelphia, gave a lecture to the girls of the school on May 26th on the subject "Moral Hygiene." Her lecture on the same subject last year was so helpful that she was invited to make a return engagement.

The excursion to Washington, May 27-29 conducted for the Senior and Junior Classes was a pleasant and profitable trip for the 185 students and their friends who made up the party. They had a special train going and coming and the weather was ideal. An elaborate itinerary was arranged which included most points of interest in and about the city. The chaperons were Miss Conard, Mr. Symons, and Mr. and Mrs. Dilworth.

One of the events of the year is the basketball game of Y. M. C. A. vs. Faculty. It was a lively occasion this year, with an accompaniment of much cheering. The Faculty won with a score of 19 to 13, and the game netted the Athletic Association about twenty-one dollars.

The girls' basket-ball team had a very successful season, winning eight of the ten games that they played with opposing teams and scoring 185 points against 110 in the total. The make-up of the team was: Miriam Bard, Allene Worth, Martha Newgard, Kathryn Leaman, and Mary Kimble.

The Inter-Society debate announced in our last news issue resulted in a victory for the Normalite team: Fuhrman Bailey, Ruth Grigg, and Samuel Strickler. These three have their names printed in gold on the handsome crimson silk banner presented to the Normal Society by the Faculty. The judges were Mrs. Albert K. Hostetter, Dr. Fleisher, and T. Warren Metzger, all of Lancaster.

In the inter-school debate with Shippensburg on April 24th, Mr. Bailey was prevented by illness from taking part. His alternate, Edna Craley took his place, and the Normal team was again victorious. The judges were Alice Gerhard, Paul Helm and Rev. T. C. Finck. A fine debating team from the Page Society consisting of Ethel Feagley, Dorothy Johnson and James Sullivan debated the same question at West Chester the same evening. They lost the decision with honorable mention.

Lazaro Milaor, '20 of the Philippine Islands gave us an excellent illustrated lecture on his native country on June 5th. His services have been in demand as a speaker in the county.

Under the direction of the Senior Class many of the students have contributed a weekly nickel offering for the purchase of new chairs for the rostrum.

Supt. Downs of Harrisburg, Dr. Rowland of the State Dept., and Dr. Marquart, director of Educational Work in the Phillipines, were among the speakers that have given us helpful and inspiring talks from the Chapel platform this term.

The Page Literary Society cleverly staged a mock Republican convention just before the real one took place. Clever speeches placed in nomination Wood, Taft, Johnson, Hoover, Sproul, and Lowden. Wood was nominated on the second ballot, receiving 564 votes.

One of the surprise features of the Normal Literary Society on April 10 was a jolly minstrel show presented by sixteen of the boys.

The customary Educational Conference for the benefit of the outgoing class was held on May 1. Talks were given and questions answered by Supts. Albright, Wilson, Wanner and Longe of York County, Snoke and Moyer of Lebanon county, and Fleisher, Work and Geist of Lancaster county.

Dr. Gordinier's services have been in great demand this spring as speaker at High School Commencements. Some of the places were Schuylkill Haven, Chester, Shenandoah, Troy, Tower City, Christiana, Millerstown, Fawn Grove, Donaldson, Coleraine township, and Portage.

Mr. Gaige has been Commencement orator at Pottstown, West York, Lykens, Duncannon, Myerstown, McVeytown, Turbotsville, Millville, Del., Spring Grove and many other places. In addition to the high school work he has made addresses on Americanization and Temperance work at Harrisburg, Lancaster, York, Mt Joy, Greencastle and various other towns.

On June 11, the fairy cantata presented by the primary department of the Model School was a dream of beauty. The High School department presented the next evening an interesting historical Hawthorne pageant, picturing the early days in New England, the witchcraft delusion and the gay life at Merrymount. Before it was quite finished a severe electric storm put out the lights through the whole building. Candles, lamps, lanterns and flashlights were forthcoming and the large audience dispersed in good order.

Hannah J. Davies Taylor, '85, writes from Bryncock, Neath, South Wales, "All my time and thoughts are occupied by my only grandchild, Lancelot Barrington, aged nine months, who rules me as no one else has ever done. Please greet all my old friends for me as they are often in my thoughts."

Agnes I. Schlade, '86 in a letter from Rajahmundry, India, writes: "I am now planning to come home on furlough early in 1921. My school has just closed its twenty-fifth year, and by December I shall have completed thirty years of service in this field."

The class work in Public Speaking for the seniors ran through one term, but their efforts in practical work along that line were encouraged, helped and critized during the entire year. The results are approximately as follows: the seniors took part in plays fifty times; in debate more than one hundred times; delivered one hundred and twenty-five addresses; recited seventy-five times; and presided over one hundred and thirty meetings of different kinds.

Pageites and their friends filled the spacious chapel to the doors on Friday evening, when the Page Literary Society celebrated their sixty-fifth anniversary. The program opened with several selections by the Normal School orchestra, Mr. James Drennen at the piano. The presiding officer of the evening was Mr. Harry A. Bailey of York. Miss Helen Weishampel played "Caprice Viennois" by Kreisler in her usual pleasing manner. The Page oration was delivered by Mr. Ira S. Brinser, 1913. Mr. Brinser was in his happiest vein, and discussed his subject, "A Scenario," in a thoughtful and logical manner. Mrs. W. F. Meiskey of Lancaster, delighted the audience with two vocal solos, and assisted Mr. Samuel B. Smith, of Lancaster, in a duet. Mr. Smith also sang with great power and melody, the "Song of the Toreador" from "Carmen." The readings by Miss Florence Kafal of Bradley Beach, N. J., were well received. The "honorary address" by F. Lyman Windolph, Esq., of Lancaster, consisted of an able paper on Malory's "Morte d'Arthur." The Page Glee club, directed by Miss Edith Taylor, of the department of vocal music, rendered a selection which was enjoyed by all. Miss Laura Sprenkle, of Wrightsville, acted as secretary of the meeting. The Anniversary Committee, who deserve credit for arranging the excellent program, were as follows: Carrie E. Myers, '84; Mary Burroughs, '20; Anna H. Brubaker, '20; Elsie M. R. Whittaker, '12; Naomi Demmy, '20; James Sullivan, '20, and H. C. Symons, '00.

The Annual Basket Ball game between the Page and Normal Societies was won for the second successive year by the Page team. The score was 29-19.

The Normal Society has had a very profitable year, keeping up and advancing the standard maintained in the past. Some of the questions debated have been: That the present status of the teaching profession is the fault of the teachers themselves, That the daylight saving system should be adopted by the United States, That a board of arbitration with compulsory power should be established to settle disputes between employers and wage earners, and "That the principle of the closed shop is justifiable." Some of the contributors to the musical features have been Misses Grigg, Paxton, Hanawalt, and Messrs. Behney, Troutman, Kelly and Milaor. Misses Janet Miller, Ritchey, Senger, Craley and Rambo have recited and orations and essays have been furnished by Messrs. Milaor, Mitten and Bucher and Misses Groh, Trout, Rambo, Rankin, Bessie Shaub.

Some of the alumni and friends that have favored us with visits of late are Lilian Hart Maris, '77, Pearle Quimby, Florence Walters, '12, Emily Longenecker, '96, Lawrence Bitner, '03, Bruce Nebinger, '17, Elizabeth Barnhart, '86, Anna Evans, '07, Martha Gerhard, '01, Virginia Grosh, '86, Elizabeth Smith Griest, '79, Anna Mahon Egbert, '06, Dr. Lilian Welsh, '76.

The Chapel Fund

Additional contributions to the Chapel Fund have been received from the persons mentioned below, bringing the total to 1404 dollars on July

2d. Opportunity for further contribution is still open as there remains a deficit of over nine hundred dollars.
