21st Century Cyber Charter School
Pennsylvania’s highest performing cyber charter school, the 21st Century Cyber Charter School’s mission is to provide students, for whom an asynchronous environment is an appropriate educational setting, with an individualized learning program utilizing the latest information and communications technology. The basis for all learning plans is to maximize student achievement of the Pennsylvania Academic Standards while developing higher order thinking and complex problem-solving skills. 21st Century Cyber Charter School (21CCCS) will assure that students master essential content and skills while preparing them for their future goals. Serving Pennsylvania students in grades 6-12, 21CCCS provides a unique blend of a rigorous, personalized curriculum, highly qualified instructional staff, and a supportive educational community. Our students thrive in this environment and have been very successful according to state standards. Through a combination of PSSA scores, Keystone Exam scores, PSAT participation, SAT scores, and other academic performance measures, 21CCCS outperforms other cyber schools in Pennsylvania. We hold the highest score of any cyber charter on the College Ready Benchmark, which includes the SAT and ACT scores of 12th grade students. 21CCCS has also been ranked in the top 10% of high schools in Pennsylvania for our SAT scores. Upon graduating from 21CCCS, our students are fully prepared for their next step, whether that be continuing their education at a two or four year college or university, perfecting their skills through a vocational certification, or joining the work force.

Christian School Association of Greater Harrisburg

The Christian School Association of Greater Harrisburg (CSAGH), established in 1954, is a 501(c)(3), private Christian educational organization composed of Christian parents, educators, alumni, and friends whose purpose is to provide learning opportunities through the establishment of Christian schools. The focus of these schools is to offer educational programs that guide and instruct students to understand the world through a Biblical perspective and to develop and prepare students to use their talents and abilities to function in and impact society. For 63 years, Harrisburg Christian School, a K-12 school in Linglestown, PA, operated under the governance of CSAGH. On January 1, 2017, West Shore Christian Academy, a pre-K to 12 school in Shiremanstown, PA, was acquired by CSAGH to create a regional Christian school system in the greater Harrisburg area. With Christian schools on both the east and west shores, CSAGH expanded its educational ministry. CSAGH now consists of two schools on three campuses, with nearly 700 students, more than 100 faculty and staff, and operates a $5.1 million budget. This new regional Christian educational school system created a historic event that expands and impacts Christian school ministry in the greater Harrisburg area now and in the future.

Council Rock School District
Located in Bucks County, Council Rock School District is just 30 miles north of Philadelphia and only 90 minutes by automobile or train from New York City. The district covers 72 square miles and is comprised of five municipalities: Newtown Borough and the townships of Newtown, Northampton, Upper Makefield, and Wrightstown. The task of educating over 11,000 students, K-12, is a large one and requires the increasing attention and devoted efforts of over 900 teachers and supervisors, as well as clerical, custodial, maintenance, and cafeteria employees who support the instructional program in the fifteen schools. The school district is by far the largest employer in the area. The school district operates ten elementary schools (grades K-6), three middle schools (grades 7-8), and two high schools (grades 9-12). Council Rock is also one of four participating school districts in the Middle Bucks Area Vocational-Technical School located in Jamison, PA. Through the regular program offerings, career awareness is first promoted at the elementary level. That awareness in heightened in the middle schools where opportunities to explore various careers are provided. The program culminates at the high schools, where students are motivated toward preparation in their chosen career. A comprehensive pupil evaluation program has long been established in the schools, along with supportive services to aid the teachers in determining each student's capabilities as well as identifying those students requiring remedial attention. An extensive special education program provides a variety of services to meet the needs of exceptional children - those students who have learning disabilities, social and emotional disabilities, physical handicaps, mental retardation, visual and/or hearing handicaps, or who are gifted and talented. Council Rock also boasts one of the most comprehensive and successful athletic and co-curricular programs to be found anywhere. Excellent facilities, quality equipment and outstanding coaching provides our students with wonderful opportunities outside of the traditional classroom. Yes, Council Rock School District blends the past with the present to meet the challenge of the future!

Dorchester County Public Schools
The Dorchester County Public School system (DCPS) provides the educational foundation for the county's children. Highlights of DCPS include: There are 12 schools – two high schools, a career and technology center, two middle schools, six elementary schools, and a kindergarten through 8th grade school. There are approximately 4700 students in the district. Our elementary schools are currently using the Houghton Mifflin Reading Program and MacMillan/McGraw-Hill Math Connects. High schools offer a full college preparatory curriculum as well as options in occupational skills. The Dorchester Career and Technology Center receives students from both high schools and offers programs in food service, masonry, carpentry, electrical operations, HVAC, automotive body, welding, horticulture, and medical services. IBM-compatible computers are used throughout the system in individual classrooms as well as strategically placed computer labs. There are courses in technology simulations, keyboarding, computer applications, and computerized accounting. Every classroom has access to the Microsoft Office products as well as to the internet. The dual enrollment program with Chesapeake College offers the opportunity for the students who wish to get started on their college credits. Family Support Services Resource Center for Families and Schools is designed to support children with disabilities from birth to 21. The center provides the skills and knowledge to enable families and children to understand the special education process.

Fairfield Area School District

The Fairfield Area School District is located in Adams County situated in the southcentral Pennsylvania. The school district maintains its rural charm with well-developed residential areas. Primary industries include farming, fruit orchards, light industry, and recreation. A ski resort and two golf courses provide numerous seasonal employment opportunities. Many adults commute to other locations engaging in occupations that include business, education, military, and industry. The community is also a popular area to retire because of its proximity to the Washington/Baltimore metro area without the high costs of living. District facilities are located on one campus that serves approximately 1025 students in two buildings. The elementary building houses grades K-4, and the middle/high school building houses two schools and the administration office. The middle school houses grades 5-8 and the high school houses grades 9-12. The middle/high school building was renovated in 1999, with additional renovations and expansions completed in Spring 2006. The district owns additional property adjacent to the campus for future expansion. The district office administration consists of 3 positions; Superintendent, Assistant to the Superintendent for Instructional Support, and Business Manager. The high school, middle, and elementary each have a principal.

Honeoye Falls-Lima Central School District

Our district includes four schools located on separate sites: Lima Primary (grades K-1), Manor Elementary (grades 2-5), middle school (grades 6-8), and high school (grades 9-12). Our district comprises 74 square miles and nine towns in three counties: Monroe County (Mendon, Henrietta, and Rush); Livingston County (Avon, Lima, and Livonia) and Ontario County (Victor, West Bloomfield, and Richmond). The Honeoye Falls-Lima School District was established in 1969 through a merger of the neighboring Honeoye Falls and Lima School Districts. Honeoye Falls, originally known as Norton’s Mills, was founded in 1791, and Lima was founded three years later. Together, the two towns make up 80% of the district’s residential population. The district lies within a rolling countryside, amid a mix of established farms, modern homes and historic town dwellings. Our community is an active partner in the district’s educational program. District residents play an integral role in program budget design and strategic planning. They serve on a number of building improvement and district-wide committees. Comprehensive and ongoing solicitation and analysis of feedback from district residents, parents, students and staff drive district efforts toward continuous improvement. Parents and community members are encouraged to become active partners in the development of our policy, curriculum, staff selection, financial resources and the general operation of the school district. Our teaching staff works closely with PTA members, parents, booster clubs and other community groups to develop a program which gives each child the attention and opportunities necessary for fully realizing their potential.

Type of School District: Public

Independence Mission Schools
Independence Mission Schools (IMS) represents a new and dynamic model of sustainable urban education combining the best attributes of private education with lean, entrepreneurial business management practices and academic accountability. Utilizing these best practices in education and business, we deliver a high-quality, cost-effective Catholic education to children and families in need. These children, like all children, deserve a quality education, but without our schools in their communities, unfortunately they wouldn't have access to one. Our 15 schools serve more than 4,700 children of all faiths from pre-K through 8th grade. More than two-thirds of our students are not Catholic but are drawn to our schools by the strong curriculum and safe, values-based educational environment. Our schools place children on a path to success by inspiring in them a lifelong love of learning. Over 65% of our students continue their education at high-performing high schools, increasing their chances of successfully graduating and becoming productive citizens. IMS is a Pennsylvania nonprofit, tax-exempt charitable organization under Section 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code.
Type of School District: Private
Demographic Area: Urban
Full Time: IMS is looking for candidates who have a commitment to our mission, a growth mindset for themselves and students, experience in differentiating instruction based on comprehensive data analysis in order to meet each student's needs, and a desire to work in a collaborative setting as an educational leader. IMS is in search of substitute teachers to work as needed throughout 15 culturally diverse, urban Catholic preK-8 schools. IMS manages a network of 15 Catholic elementary schools across the city of Philadelphia and in surrounding regions. Substitute teachers may be offered work on a per diem basis by any of our 15 schools as additional staffing is required. Successful candidates must be able to clear all background checks as listed on our webpage. Bachelor's degree required; Pennsylvania Instructional Certificate appropriate content area preferred.

Kent County Public Schools

Kent County Public Schools (KCPS) is the smallest district in Maryland, serving approximately 2000 students. Our size allows delivery of personalized learning experiences to students at all levels. The following initiatives focused our efforts to become one of the best school districts in Maryland: Professional Learning Communities is the process KCPS utilized to regain our focus on student achievement. A Professional Learning Community fosters collaborative school cultures that empower teachers to effectively utilize student data to inform teaching and learning. Our goal is to ensure every student receives rigorous and relevant instruction in every classroom, every day. High quality instructional materials and resources are provided to our teachers to achieve results. In 2013, KCPS adopted new math and reading textbooks for elementary schools. Additional funds were allocated in 2014, to purchase textbooks for secondary students. KCPS is committed to the purchase of rigorous instructional materials that challenge and prepare our students to become college and career ready. A digital learning environment is available to our students at every level. A digital learning grant provided KCPS with substantial funding to purchase digital devices, software, and programming to enhance teaching and learning. Through our Discovery Education partnership, students access interactive digital media content and digital textbooks to inspire learning and bring the world into the classroom. In addition, our teachers are being trained to effectively use technology to actively engage students and personalize learning. We provide 1:1 devices to students in grades 1-10 and plan on purchasing additional devices every year until each student has their own device to use in the classroom. The entire Kent County community has rallied behind our efforts to systematically improve student achievement at every level. Through the dedication of our staff, parents, and community, KCPS

KinderCare Learning Center

The early education teachers at KinderCare Learning Centers are passionate about each child’s happiness and growth. They are dedicated to providing a safe, nurturing environment that cultivates self-esteem. KinderCare is more than a job to them. It’s an opportunity to share their passion for life while they awaken the wonder inside each and every child. Our low teacher-to-student ratios allow teachers to focus on the individual learning styles and needs of each child in our center. KinderCare teachers and staff want to form a strong partnership with families to ensure the best possible experience for every child. Our teachers provide daily communication with families and seek to understand a family’s unique needs. KinderCare child care centers devote more time and resources to teacher training than any other childcare provider. Twice a year we host the largest early childhood teacher training program in the country. Accreditation inspires a dedication to constant improvement in all areas. Our centers are accredited because we believe so strongly in the process and its purpose: to ensure each child receives the very best education and care in the early years that we know are so important to development. We’re proud to have the most nationally accredited early learning centers in the country—nearly 1300. We’re dedicated to achieving 100 percent accreditation for all of our eligible centers—and that puts us head and shoulders above the rest of the industry.

Type of School District: Private

Demographic Area: Suburban

Full Time: KinderCare has great career opportunities for dedicated, responsible, and creative professionals. We offer competitive salary and benefits, and a friendly and creative atmosphere where you can be part of a team of caring, skilled professionals. We encourage and empower our employees' enthusiasm for learning. As part of our commitment to providing quality care in our centers, we’ll help you enhance your skills through yearly training and staff development opportunities.

What does it take to be a KinderCare teacher? A desire to make every moment a teachable one; a commitment to nurturing, inspiring, and delighting the children in your care; a passion for creating lifelong learners; and a willingness to treat parents as partners in their child’s education!

Lower Dauphin School District

The Lower Dauphin School District is made up of five municipalities and covers close to 90-square miles and is home to 22,545 residents. Today the Lower Dauphin School District is home to five K-5 neighborhood elementary schools, a middle school (grades 6-8), and a high school (grades 9-12). There is an elementary school building in each of the district’s four townships. Hummelstown Borough is home to our fifth elementary building, our middle school, our high school and our district administration center. About 4,000 young people attend our schools; with about 1,700 at the elementary level, 1,000 in the middle school, 1,200 in high school, and another 100 at the Dauphin County Technical School. As the make-up of our small towns has changed and our rural areas have developed, student enrollment in our district has increased over the last several years. Through the use of 'flexible boundaries,' we have been able to keep class size balanced throughout the district, with the average class size in the low- to mid-20s. The education of our students lies in the care of more than 300 educational professionals. More than half of those hold master’s degrees or a master’s equivalent.

Manheim Central School District
The Manheim Central School District is a school district of the third class, organized and existing under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The governing body of the school district is a board of nine directors who are each elected for a term of four-years. The daily operation and management of the school district is carried out by the administrative staff, headed by the Superintendent of Schools who is appointed by the Board of School Directors. The district is comprised of the Borough of Manheim and the Townships of Penn and Rapho (collectively, the "municipalities"). Located in northwestern Lancaster County, the school district encompasses 78.2 square miles of scenic and productive agricultural lands being increasingly converted to residential use. The school district lies approximately seven miles north of Lancaster, approximately eighty miles west of Philadelphia and twenty-five miles east of Harrisburg. The district is a member of the Lancaster-Lebanon Intermediate Unit 13 (IU13), one of 29 intermediate units across the Commonwealth of PA. The IU provides educational and support services to member districts and non-public schools in the two-county area. Manheim Central School District is also a proud member of the Lancaster County Career & Technology Center (LCCTC) - providing occupational education and training for high school and adult students in our county - and the Manheim Area Chamber of Commerce, as well as the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

Northern York School District
The Northern York County School District is located in southcentral Pennsylvania at the northwestern tip of York County. With a total of 91 square miles, is strategically located between three major population centers: Harrisburg, the state capital on the northeast; York, the county seat to the southeast; and Gettysburg, to the southwest. The major population center of the school district is Dillsburg, a community of approximately 1900 people. The school district is comprised of seven municipalities, four townships, and three boroughs. The townships are Carroll, Franklin, Monaghan, and Warrington. The boroughs are Dillsburg, Franklintown, and Wellsville. The combined population of all seven municipalities is approximately 20,000 residents. The seven school buildings include a comprehensive high school housing grades 9 through 12, a sixth through eighth grade middle school and four elementary schools. The elementary buildings are: Dillsburg Elementary, Northern Elementary, South Mountain Elementary, and Wellsville Elementary. Additionally 50-60 students are enrolled and transported to the Cumberland-Perry Area Vocational Technical School for specialized vocational and technical courses. Student Assistance programs are available at the high school and middle school levels. The student population has been growing at about 2% per year over the past ten years. The building enrollments for the 2012-2013 school year were 989 in the high school, 730 in the middle school, 389 in Dillsburg Elementary, 322 in Northern Elementary, 516 in South Mountain Elementary, and 209 in Wellsville Elementary. Class sizes range from 10 to 28 students at the high school, 23-28 students in the middle school, and 14-27 per class at the elementary level. With 245 professional employees and a support staff numbering 155, the school district is the largest employer in the seven municipalities it serves. Teachers range in experience from 1 to 43 years with an average experience factor of approximately 18 years. Over 50% of the professional staff has a Master's degree or better. The district maintains a comprehensive professional development program for its staff and encourages members to continuously update their teaching skills through available professional workshops, conferences, and seminars. A negotiated agreement with the teachers is currently in effect for the years 2016-2021.

Penn Manor School District
With a student population of approximately 5200, Penn Manor School District (PMSD) is recognized as one of the largest school districts in Lancaster County. The district spans over 110 rural square miles to the east of the Susquehanna River. PMSD encompasses five political entities: Millersville Borough, and Conestoga, Martic, Manor, and Pequea Townships with a community population of approximately 32,000. PMSD occupies seven elementary buildings, two middle schools, and one high school. Nestled in Millersville Borough, Penn Manor High School is located beside the campus of Millersville University. The corporate headquarters of both Armstrong World Industries and Turkey Hill Dairy are located within Penn Manor School District’s boundaries. PMSD is a three-layer district with instruction organized into an elementary division, middle level division, and high school division. Curricular design has been aligned with a K-3, 4-6, 7-8, and 9-12 configurations. All seven elementary schools house grades K-6. The two middle schools serve grades 7-8 and utilize a team approach designed around a team of core teachers for math, English, reading, social studies, and science. The high school initiated a program of intensive or “block” scheduling in the 1995-1996 school year and serves students in grades 9-12. The district currently employs 362 teachers and 210 non-instructional support staff. PMSD students have consistently scored above both the state and federal averages on the SAT exam. Over the past 5 years 70-75% of PMSD seniors have pursued post-secondary education.

Queen Anne’s County is the central gateway to Maryland’s Eastern Shore located in close proximity to Delaware and within a 1.5 hour drive to major cities like Baltimore, Philadelphia and Washington DC. The school district is relatively small with just 14 schools (8 elementary, 4 middle, and 2 high schools). Approximately 600 teachers, specialists and administrators are employed to provide education programs to over 8,000 students. The district provides innovative educational practices, up-to-date equipment, curriculum study and development, and reasonable pupil-teacher ratios. The vision for Queen Anne’s County Public Schools is that all students experience academic success, learn personal responsibility, and achieve career readiness for the 21st century.

Demographic Area: Rural
Full Time: Queen Anne’s County Public Schools provides innovative educational practices, up-to-date equipment, curriculum study and development, and reasonable pupil-teacher ratios. Our vision, mission, and core values are based on a commitment to ensure that all children receive a rigorous academic program in a learning environment that is safe, respectful, and caring, and that they leave school prepared to be successful in post-secondary school or in the workforce. A comprehensive system-wide multicultural curriculum is offered from kindergarten through 12th grade. There is a pre-kindergarten program for four year olds in selected schools, as well as a special needs program for infants/toddlers and children, ages three through five. At every level the focus is on success for every student. Quality instruction combined with teacher commitment provides excellent instructional programs across the county.

Tyrone Area School District

Nestled in the hills of central Pennsylvania, the Tyrone Area School District proudly serves approximately 1900 students in one elementary school (preK- grade 4), a middle school (grades 5-8), and a high school (grades 9-12). The small community of Tyrone is surrounded by rolling farmland and lush woodlands. Universities, recreational areas, and shopping centers within 25 miles complete the surroundings. The Tyrone Area School District encompasses 176 square miles and includes the borough of Tyrone and townships in the northern tip of Blair County, crossing into Centre County (Taylor Township) and Huntingdon County (Warriors Mark and Franklin Townships). Approximately 12,600 people reside within the district’s boundaries. Student population is stabilized with some growth in the Snyder Township and Warriors Mark Township areas. The district is, to a great extent, a rural area for residents who work in Blair County with a growing number who are employed in the State College area. The school district provides a quality of education for its students at a cost well below the state average. Annual budgets reflect program continuity and expansion, while maintaining taxes at a reasonable level. About 28 percent of the revenues are derived from taxes and other local sources, while the state provides subsidies equivalent to about 67 percent of overall revenues with the remaining five percent from federal sources. The district spends the bulk of its funds directly on instruction. In partnership with the community, our mission is to offer progressive educational opportunities that empower students to be responsible citizens and life-long learners in our democracy and global society.

West Orange Public Schools

The West Orange Public School District has been educating students since 1895 when the historic Washington Elementary School opened its doors. Today the district boasts eleven extraordinary schools. The 7 traditional neighborhood elementary schools include a very sought after full day kindergarten. Each elementary school feeds an innovative central sixth middle school. Students are offered 7th and 8th grade in 2 middle schools complete with all the latest technology. The state-of-the-art high school campus rivals a small university campus and prepares students for the variety of 21st century opportunities, choices and expectations both socially and academically. The 7,000+ student body speaks more than 48 languages in the home and provides a mix of cultures, socio-economic, and religious groups that creates a harmonious microcosm of a global community contained within the borders of West Orange. The diversity is a tremendous strength and contributes greatly to the success of each and every student. The West Orange Board of Education emphasizes educating the ‘whole’ child, and each ‘individual’ student with an educational program tailored to meet each student’s needs. The West Orange Board of Education pays close attention to individualized education with special attention to class sizes maintaining one of the lowest teacher-to-student ratios in the state. Understanding that children have different learning styles and abilities, through the efforts of a highly qualified and dedicated teaching and administrative staff, all West Orange public school students receive the highest quality of education in each and every West Orange school building. The West Orange School District provides hundreds of extracurricular activities and clubs, after school programs and sports programs. West Orange High School is home to a brand new athletic complex complete with top level playing fields, courts, track and facilities that are the envy of the region. The West Orange Board of Education is committed to a strong cultural arts program. Performing arts, music, and fine arts education begins at the elementary school level and is provided as part of the curriculum throughout the K-12 program. Physical fitness and health awareness remains an important focus for the West Orange Board of Education. Health and physical education programs are mandatory for every student in all grades. Nutrition and wellness programs are a district priority integrated through a nutrition-conscious food service with healthy lunches and snacks served in every school. The athletic program offers a broad range of award winning sports programs that prepare each student athlete for excellence. Most graduates are scholar athletes that have more than satisfied the requirements for post-secondary athletic opportunities.

Director Networking | Professional Development & Leadership Training | Shared Services
Richmond County Schools and its employees are passionate about student success. We need excellent educators to teach our children and make a difference in their lives. We have been successful in hiring quality educators from Pennsylvania education programs, and we actively seek to hire these graduates. Currently, we have at least forty former graduates from Pennsylvania colleges in our school system. In Richmond County Schools, you are someone special, and it’s our mission to make you successful. We truly embrace new teachers and believe their enthusiasm for teaching make them excellent additions to our educational community. We understand that there is a learning curve with new teachers; that’s why we have a comprehensive professional development program in place for our beginning teachers (BT’s). If you decide join our system, our BT program coordinator will assign you a retired master teacher (Retention Specialist) who will check on and support you weekly. Additionally, you will be assigned a mentor at your school to help you navigate your new journey as an educator.

Richmond County Schools is located in south central North Carolina. It’s two hours from the beach, three hours from the mountains, and centrally located to the major metropolitan areas of our state. The area is relatively warm and has very little, if any, snow each year. This district serves approximately 7,300 students at 16 fully accredited schools in the areas of Ellerbe, Hamlet, Hoffman, Norman, and Rockingham. Our district includes 7 elementary schools, 4 middle schools, 4 secondary schools and a school for students with special needs.

Richmond County Schools is large enough that you always have someone to plan with, but small enough so that everyone knows you by name. District leaders go out of their way to help you find success. We want our young teachers to be active citizens who embrace our community and who strive to make it a better place each day.

We believe with your help and commitment our district will be well-positioned to demonstrate how a rural county can compete academically on a global scale. Therefore, Richmond County Schools will inspire excellence and create a culture of continuous improvement by raising expectations for both its students and staff members at all times.

Please feel free to come by our table at the Millersville teacher fair and speak with me and our other ambassadors. If you have questions prior to the job fair, please feel free to contact me directly at 910-206-1423, or by email at juliancarter@richmond.k12.nc.us. You may also view our district by going to our website: http://www.richmond.k12.nc.us and by visiting our Facebook, Instagram, Twitter and YouTube tabs to view some of the great things going on in our district.

Regardless of where you choose to go to work, we wish you the best. You are about to embark on the most noble of all careers. Make a difference!!

Sincerely,

Julian E. Carter

All things are possible at Manassas Park City Schools!

All children will learn. People make the difference.

Manassas Park City Schools serves the City of Manassas Park, a 2.6 square mile independent jurisdiction in Northern Virginia, located approximately 30 miles southwest of Washington, DC. We serve just over 3,000 students at four schools - two elementary, a middle, and a high school. While we are small in size, we are BIG on providing innovative learning experiences for our diverse community of learners. At MPCS, you will find coordinated curriculum and vertical articulation like no other - our size enables a laser-like focus on preK-12 education. At MPCS, educators know the families, connect with the community, and collaborate with staff - yes, even the Superintendent.

Personalization is the cornerstone to our success at MPCS. If you are looking for an opportunity to make a BIG impact on teaching and learning - you belong in Manassas Park City Schools.

“If you really want to teach, then you owe it to yourself to get this book!”

Obtain inside information on how to prepare for interviews, tough interview questions, and what makes you stand out as a candidate.

“This should be required reading for all Education majors.”

“As the title promises, I aced all my interviews and had multiple job offers.”

“Great read! I had three interviews, was offered two jobs, and got to choose which one I wanted most.”

“Every question I was asked in the interview was in this book. I was offered the job the next day.”

Available in book stores or on-line.

Great things happen when teachers become students!

Summer Institutes
Summer Institutes provide educators and administrators with quality instruction, knowledgeable speakers and faculty and strategies/techniques to take back to the classroom.

Institutes for educators are offered in an intensive one week-long format. Scheduled in the summer, Institutes typically run Monday-Friday from 8 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. for a total of 37.5 contact hours. Pre-and post-assignments are required of all institute participants.

Our teacher institutes offer 3 graduate credits and 90 ACT 48 hours. Graduate credits can be applied toward a master’s degree in an appropriate graduate program at Millersville University. Please check with your advisor to ensure credits can be applied toward your graduate degree.
