- IX. Student Photo Rosters – Dr. Ryan Wagner
 Proposal: Include individual photographs of students with the class and advisee rosters provided to faculty.
 Rationale: Students prefer that their professors know them by name, yet many professors have more than 100 students in their classes each semester and many also have over 30 advisees that they see just once a semester. To support faculty in learning student names, many colleges (e.g. HACC, Franklin & Marshall) are routinely providing photo rosters of students to faculty. Such photographs are available from student IDs. We believe that providing student photos to faculty will support our goal of having Millersville University provide students with the personal environment typical of small colleges while still providing the choices and opportunities of a larger university.
