Music Meets History

Dr. Tanya Kevorkian
Department of History

Dr. Kevorkian will speak about how she conducted scholarly research for her interdisciplinary book Music and Urban Life in Baroque Germany, incorporated the research and writing process into her teaching, how this project has evolved from her previous interests, and what she has learned.

Tanya Kevorkian is an associate professor of history at Millersville. She received her PhD from Johns Hopkins University in 1997 and arrived at MU the same year. She teaches and does research on German history, Baroque music, colonial Pennsylvania, and environmental history. Her first book, Baroque Piety: Religion, Society, and Music in Leipzig, 1650-1750 (2007) was awarded the American Bach Society’s 2008 William Scheide prize. Other awards include a National Endowment for the Humanities Fellowship for 2012-2013 and a Summer Faculty Fellowship at the McNeil Center for Early American Studies at the University of Pennsylvania in 2010.

This lecture series provides an opportunity for our Millersville University community to gather and celebrate the accomplishments of our College of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences colleagues. All students, faculty and staff are invited to attend.
