DEGREES/CONCENTRATIONS

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE (B.S.) IN SPEECH COMMUNICATION

Learn how to produce and analyze human and mediated communication, and apply that knowledge to real-world communication challenges in one of these four concentrations:

- Digital Communication and Cultural Studies – This option provides opportunities to learn how processes of communication create and sustain society and culture. Students learn to critically analyze the social structures, cultural practices, organizations and institutions that result from our patterns of communication.
- Public Relations – Public relations professionals help organizations build relationships with customers, investors, donors, influencers and other key publics. Based upon Public Relations Society of America (PRSA) guidelines, courses engage students in social media and crisis communication scenarios. Upper-level students work with local nonprofit organizations to research situations and develop messages to fulfill strategic campaign objectives.
- Theatre – Students receive academic preparation and training in theatre fundamentals of performance and production work: acting, directing, scenic design, costume, makeup, and lighting and sound, spanning a variety of styles for a broad background in theatre. Main stage shows are held each year, and our student theatre organizations, Citamard and ACMO, offer several theatre involvement opportunities.
- Journalism – This concentration prepares students with the foundations and skills of journalism, including information gathering, analysis, writing, editing and reporting in a diverse world. Students learn the standards for journalism and how it defends and maintains the freedom of communication for a better informed public.

FACILITIES

- Dutcher Hall – Dutcher Hall is home to Rafters Theatre, a 100-seat "black box" flexible theatre, and a 50-seat studio theatre. University Theatre produces main stage shows annually, rotating to represent all major historical periods: Shakespeare, American classics, contemporary plays and musicals. More advanced students will have the opportunity to direct or design for major productions or as a special project. Guest directors and designers regularly offer their talents in the production of plays.
- Winter Visual and Performing Arts Center – This building includes the Clair Performance Hall, Biemesderfer Concert Hall, Murley Recital Hall, the Eckert Art Gallery, the Steinman Foundation Recording Suite, the Isaacson Dance Studio, a state-of-the-art Yamaha Clavinova piano lab and a fully equipped scene shop. This on-campus center is a creative hub for students, faculty and the surrounding community in music, art and theatre. Local, regional, national and international artists connect with students in residencies, master classes and workshops.
- Costume Shop – A collection that includes over 10,000 was a gift to the University from Mrs. Jean Loeb of Lancaster, a veteran costumer of local productions. The Loeb Costume Collection is largely derived from the inventory of Wass & Son costumers of Philadelphia. Today, the collection has grown to over 25,000 costumes through additional acquisitions, constructions and donations.
- Bassler Hall – Includes a fully equipped television studio, a smaller studio for individual student and faculty projects, digital video and audio-editing suites, two computer labs with current media-editing software, and up-to-date cameras, lights, sound equipment, and on-location production gear.
